Tsara Ann Hinman Award
for Female Students Studying Chinese at The University of Iowa, 2018

Department of Asian and Slavic Languages and Literatures

Information for Applicants

Eligibility requirements: Both undergraduate and graduate female students (not including international students) currently pursuing degrees at The University of Iowa and also enrolled in a Chinese language class during fall 2018 and spring 2019 may apply for the Tsara Ann Hinman Award. Preference will be given in either case to students who demonstrate (1) an aptitude and achievement in previous work in their Chinese language study, and (2) serious commitment to Chinese study but need financial assistance for achieving language study goals. Priority will be given to students who intend to continue their Chinese study after the 2019 award period. An amount of $150 will be awarded to the successful applicant(s). The award will be made in two installments: $75 for the fall and $75 for the spring. For students who are selected to receive the award, $75 will be paid in the fall semester and another $75 will be paid in the spring by presenting the evidence of enrollment in a Chinese language class of spring 2019. The award is not eligible for previous awardees.

Application and selection procedures: Applicants must submit the following application materials to the selection committee by October 5, 2018 to be considered for award support:

- A completed application form, including a statement of Chinese study plan and the need for scholarship support.
- A current and complete academic transcript (copy of online MyUI version acceptable).
- A résumé (brief account of person’s education, qualifications, employment history)

Awardees will be notified of their selection by December.

APPLICATION DEADLINE – FRIDAY, OCTOBER 5, 2018
