The University of Iowa

Beginning Chinese I
Scholarship Supported Summer Program for Iowa High School Students!
July 5–28, 2017

This four-week Chinese language program will be offered from July 5–28, 2017 by the Department of Asian and Slavic Languages and Literatures at the University of Iowa. Iowa high school students in any grade with little or no background in Chinese can apply for this program, which is supported by a STARTALK grant from the National Security Agency. Although this is a day program, dorm housing is available for students who do not live near Iowa City. Students will earn 3 UIOWA credits upon successful completion of this program or earn dual-credits through the Post-Secondary Enrollment Options. The program will incorporate various cultural activities and a Chicago Chinatown visit at no additional cost to the students. The actual program costs per student are $2,000 (including tuition, textbooks, cultural workshops, a field trip, and lunches), but all students who are admitted receive a scholarship and will pay only $70 for the program. Students who live more than a one-hour drive from Iowa City can apply for dorm housing at an additional cost of only $300, including meals.

We will only be able to accommodate 26 students. For scholarship application information please visit https://clas.uiowa.edu/dwllc/asll/startalk-chinese

Deadline for Application: April 15, 2017. Award notification: May 1, 2017

For questions, please contact: helen-shen@uiowa.edu or bo-sun@uiowa.edu
Chinese Program, Department of Asian and Slavic Languages and Literatures, Division of World Languages, Literatures and Cultures, University of Iowa.