ISBA Newsletter – 1/26/2016

ACADEMIC INFORMATION

1. Last day to add/drop semester-length spring 2016 courses without a W (with a $12 fee) = February 1.

2. To make an appointment with Karmen, use the online scheduler (in ISIS/Student Records/My Appointments), or contact the International Studies Program (21 SH; 319-384-1328).

3. GRADUATING SENIORS: Generate a new degree audit in ISIS/Student Records, and review it to make sure that your spring 2016 courses are completing your remaining requirements. If your degree audit does not show your spring 2016 enrollment completing your requirements, then contact your academic advisor for that major. Contact karmen-berger@uiowa.edu with questions.

4. Students must apply for their degrees on ISIS/Student Records. Deadline for applying for a spring 2016 degree = February 26, 2016; deadline for applying for a summer 2016 degree = June 10, 2016.

World Travel is a ten week, 2 credit course, designed to challenge students to think critically about their role in the world, especially when working, living, traveling, playing, serving others, doing business, and teaching abroad. The world is full of both endless possibilities and significant power differentials. Thus, we will consider how we might further develop cultural competencies on a personal level, as well as on organizational levels. This course is excellent preparation for students planning to study, work, intern, or volunteer abroad.
GLOBAL INFORMATION IS POWER, GO BEYOND GOOGLE SCHOLAR!

IS:3011 Library Strategies for International Topics (1 s.h.)
Mar 09, 2016 - May 04, 2016, Wednesdays, 5:00-6:35pm

This course teaches skills for gathering and using information required for international jobs, upper-level I.S. coursework, and individual research. Students will develop a familiarity with a variety of research and popular materials, become experts in at least one academic research database and enhance their critical thinking skills. The class will feature small group activities, short student presentations and an individual research consultation.

Reminder: Honors Contracts due February 19
Are you planning to turn a non-honors class into an honors class? Be sure to have your completed honors contract turned in by February 19. To learn more and to find all necessary forms, please visit http://honors.uiowa.edu/current-students/courses/honors-contract-courses.

Doing an internship this semester?
Remember that there are many ways to designate your internship through the Pomerantz Career Center, including a zero-hour transcript notation, earning credit through the Career Center, or earning credit through a department. Deadlines are approaching, so find out which option works best for you by visiting http://careers.uiowa.edu/students/reporting-credit-options.

Available Resource: The Writing Center
As you plan for a new semester make time to visit the Writing Center. We assist with all kinds of writing projects in all disciplines. From brainstorming, outlining and organization to polishing up a final draft, our job is to help you become a better writer, reader and critical thinker. Our services are free and available to all students. Available options include:

- 30 minute appointments for consultations on shorter projects.
- A regular weekly meeting for the entire semester. Great for longer projects or if you have a lot of writing to do.
- Submit your work to our online system and get comments and suggestions by email.

For more information see our website at http://writingcenter.uiowa.edu. The Writing Center is hosted by the Department of Rhetoric and located in 110 English Philosophy Building. For help with speeches and presentations, visit the Speaking Center's website at http://speakingcenter.uiowa.edu.

How We Should Be Discussing The Arab World & Islam in 2016

Wednesday, January 27th
12:30 pm - 1:30 pm
1117 University Capitol Centre

Dr. James Zogby will speak to UI students about the significance of political discourse regarding the Arab world and Islam.

Dr. James Zogby is the founder and president of the Arab American Institute (AAI), a Washington, D.C.-based organization which serves as the political and policy research arm of the Arab American community. Dr. Zogby is also managing director of Zogby Research Services, LLC, specializing in research, communications, and public opinion polling across the Arab world. In September 2013, President Obama appointed Dr. Zogby to the United States Commission on International Religious Freedom, dedicated to defending the universal right to freedom of religion or belief abroad.

Since 1992, Dr. Zogby has also written a weekly column on U.S. politics for the major newspapers of the Arab world. The column, “Washington Watch,” is currently published in 12 Arab and South Asian countries.

This event is sponsored by International Programs, CIVIC, the UI Honors Program, the UI School of Journalism and Mass Communications, the UICHR, and the UI Department of History.

Individuals with disabilities are encouraged to attend all University of Iowa-sponsored events. If you are a person with a disability who requires an accommodation in order to participate in this program, please contact Jo Butterfield in advance at civic@uiowa.edu or (319) 335-0351.

Sara McLaughlin Mitchell is Professor of Political Science and Department Chair at the University of Iowa. She received her Ph.D. in Political Science at Michigan State University in 1997 and her B.S degree in Economics and Political Science at Iowa State University in 1991. An accomplished author, Mitchell has published many books on global conflict and resolution, and has been the recipient of several major research awards from the Department of Defense, the National Science Foundation, and the United States Agency for International Development.

Her research examines the relationship between interstate river conflicts and intrastate violence such as riots, strikes, demonstrations, and civil wars in the Western Hemisphere, Western Europe, and the Middle East. She argues that interstate disagreements over cross-border river basins increase the potential for intrastate conflict by creating unequal access to water resources, displacing populations through damming and diversion projects, and increasing demands for freshwater as population growth occurs.

Having multiple generations of a family under one roof can be challenging, especially when dealing with a delayed wedding, a visit from an annoying expatriate cousin, the arrival of a former love, and a government-imposed five-day house arrest. This is what life in the occupied West Bank is like for the Faranesh family. Food and Fadwa offers a glimpse into the struggles of everyday life under a military occupation. Will the Faranesh family be able to endure as they have in the past? Or will the relentless pressure lead to their disintegration?

Food and Fadwa is set in a military occupation and deals with the sights and sounds of war. This production may not be suitable for children.

The College of Liberal Arts & Sciences Annual Scholarship Competition has begun!

The College of Liberal Arts & Sciences supports over 50 different scholarships awarded through the College's annual scholarship competition. For 2016-2017 academic year, the College plans to award undergraduate scholarships collectively worth over $600,000.

Applications are available for students until midnight February 1, 2016. Letters of recommendation from faculty and staff are DUE by Monday, February 8, 2015.

To be eligible for most CLAS scholarships, students must:

1. Currently be enrolled as an undergraduate student in College of Liberal Arts and Sciences
2. Have a minimum 3.33 UI and Cumulative GPA for Need Based awards.
3. Have a minimum 3.5 UI and Cumulative GPA for Merit Based awards.
4. Be seeking their first baccalaureate degree.

Please note some scholarships involve both merit and financial need criteria, some specify Iowa residence, some specify full-time student status, and some specify class status. The specific criteria for each scholarship can easily be accessed via the new Iowa Scholarship Portal (http://scholarships.uiowa.edu) or at http://clas.uiowa.edu/students/scholarships.

Please note all scholarships offered through the College of Liberal Arts and Sciences require two (2) letters of recommendation from a faculty member in order for the application to be considered by the committee. The individuals who are listed as a reference will receive an email explaining the submission process after their student has successfully submitted a scholarship application.

Questions may be addressed to the Office of Academic Programs & Student Development at clas-scholarships@uiowa.edu or (319) 335-2633.

Rising Juniors: Apply for the Carver Scholarship for Fall 2016

The Roy J. Carver Charitable Trust centers on providing substantial scholarships to students who struggle to overcome significant social and economic obstacles in the pursuit of their education or who may be living in circumstances that may not normally be taken into account by other financial aid programs.

Carver Scholarships are available to full-time (12 hours or more) students who will be starting their junior year in the fall semester of the award year. While amounts may vary, average awards are $5,200 at public universities. Scholarships may be renewed for the senior year, but such renewal is not automatic, and students must re-apply on-line. Applicants must have graduated from an Iowa high school, or lived in Iowa for five consecutive years before applying; demonstrate financial need and/or other social barriers to attending college full time; and have a minimum cumulative grade point average of 2.8 on a 4.0 scale.

More information and applications are available at https://www.carvertrust.org/index.php?page=scholarsb. Applicants must complete the FAFSA by March 1, 2016 and submit completed scholarship applications by April 1, 2016.
2016-17 Gender, Women’s & Sexuality Studies Scholarships

The Department of Gender, Women’s & Sexuality Studies (GWSS) at The University of Iowa invites applications for their scholarships. Application deadline is February 1, 2016. All materials should be sent electronically to laura-kastens@uiowa.edu.

ADAH JOHNSON/OTILIA MARIA FERNANDEZ SCHOLARSHIP

This scholarship honors Adah Johnson, one of the first black women students to graduate from The University of Iowa (1912) and Otilia Maria Fernandez, one of the first Hispanic woman graduates (1924).

The 2016-17 Johnson/Fernandez Scholarship will be awarded to an undergraduate woman student of color who has taken courses in the Gender, Women’s & Sexuality Studies Department or whose academic interests include some aspect of women’s culture or experience. One award of $1000 will be given.

Visit the GWSS website http://clas.uiowa.edu/gwss/undergraduate-program/scholarships for an application and complete eligibility instructions.

KRISTIN K. LIPPKE MEMORIAL SCHOLARSHIP

Kris Lippke was a University of Iowa undergraduate student one month away from graduating with a minor in Women’s Studies when a serious car accident changed the course of her life. In her memory the Lippke family has endowed a scholarship to be awarded to undergraduate students majoring in Gender, Women’s, and Sexuality Studies.

The inaugural 2016-17 Kristin Lippke Scholarship in the amount of $3000 will be awarded to two (2) GWSS majors on the basis of academic record and financial need.

Visit the GWSS website http://clas.uiowa.edu/gwss/undergraduate-program/scholarships for an application and complete eligibility instructions.

Apply to the Margaret P. Benson Memorial Scholarship

The Women's Resource and Action Center (WRAC) at The University of Iowa invites applications for the Margaret P. Benson Memorial Scholarship program for the upcoming (2016-17) academic year. Application deadline is February 19, 2016.

Created by a designated bequest to the University of Iowa Foundation, the Margaret P. Benson Memorial Scholarship recognizes qualified female applicants who demonstrate financial need and are committed to women's issues, diversity, and social activism. One or two awards are available each year. Awards generally range from $1000 to $2000 per academic year to be applied toward tuition, fees, living expenses, or books. The scholarship is presented at the UI's annual Celebration of Excellence and Achievement Among Women (http://www.uiowa.edu/celebrationofexcellence/).

The Margaret P. Benson Memorial Scholarship is administered and selected by individuals affiliated with the Women's Resource and Action Center at the University of Iowa. The Center works to create greater equity for individuals and communities of all identities, with a particular focus on women.

Information about eligibility and application procedures is available on the WRAC web site at http://wrac.uiowa.edu/services/scholarships/scholarships-and-awards

The Harold Burson Summer 2016 Internship Program

Burson-Marsteller is a global public relations and communications firm headquartered in New York City. Burson-Marsteller operates 67 wholly owned offices and 71 affiliate offices in 98 countries in six continents. The Harold Burson Summer Internship (HBSI) Program is a paid internship at one of the U.S. Burson-Marsteller offices. Each intern is assigned to a client team or practice group. During the internship, students work closely with experienced industry professionals. HBSI interns are given the opportunity to work as a team member, while gaining valuable work experience. Colleagues from different specialty areas of Burson-Marsteller conduct seminars for interns each week. Interns are also grouped into teams where they work on a special HBSI project, which they present to a senior management panel for review at the conclusion of the internship. The summer internship offers an invaluable career-development experience that can often lead to an employment opportunity with us after graduation.

Boren Scholarship for International Study

Boren Scholarships, an initiative of the National Security Education Program, provide unique funding opportunities for U.S. undergraduate students to study less commonly taught languages in world regions critical to U.S. interests, and underrepresented in study abroad, including Africa, Asia, Central and Eastern Europe, Eurasia, Latin America, and the Middle East.

Boren Scholars represent a vital pool of highly motivated individuals who wish to work in the federal national security arena. In exchange for funding, Boren Scholars commit to working in the federal government for at least one year after graduation. Two programs of interest to IS students are:

- The African Flagship Languages Initiative (AFLI) offers Boren Scholarship and Boren Fellowship applicants the opportunity to study African languages and cultures by participating in domestic and overseas language programs in Akan/Twi, French, Portuguese, Swahili, Wolof, or Zulu. More information for undergraduate students here.

- The South Asian Flagship Languages Initiative (SAFLI) offers Boren Scholarship applicants the opportunity for intensive language study of Hindi and Urdu and cultural immersion by participating in domestic and overseas language programs. More information for undergraduate students here.

Applications for 2016-2017 must be submitted by Tuesday, February 9, 2016 at 5pm EST.

Learn a South Asian language this summer at UW-Madison!

The South Asia Summer Language Institute (SASLI) based at the University of Wisconsin – Madison is offering intensive summer courses in the following South Asian languages: Bengali, Gujarati, Hindi, Malayalam, Marathi, Pashto, Sanskrit, Sinhala, Tamil, Telugu, Tibetan and Urdu

New this year! SASLI will be offering Third-Year Hindi and Third-Year Urdu in addition to the elementary and intermediate level courses. All other classes will be offered at the elementary and intermediate levels only.

Applications for Summer 2016 are now being accepted. The summer 2016 program will run from June 13 - August 5.

There are three funding options available to students:

1) $1000 Fee Remissions, indicate interest when submitting the SASLI online application
2) SASLI Half and Full Remissions, deadline March 13, 2016
3) FLAS Fellowships, deadline February 15, 2016

Further information about funding and the SASLI FLAS and Half/Full Fee Remission applications can be found on the SASLI website at: http://sasli.wisc.edu/funding.html

Apply to SASLI

Instructions for submitting a complete application packet and the SASLI web application can be found on the SASLI website at http://sasli.wisc.edu/apply.html. Please apply as soon as possible, as faculty hiring is based on student interest.

Any questions can be addressed to SASLI by phone at (608) 261-1194 or by e-mail at sasli@southasia.wisc.edu. We look forward to your application!
Apply to GESI for Summer or Fall 2016

The Global Engagement Studies Institute (GESI) at Northwestern University is one of the leading international service-learning programs in the nation. GESI provides a unique opportunity for undergraduates to make a positive impact on communities abroad, while earning Northwestern course credit.

GESI participants intern alongside local experts to collaboratively implement work in small interdisciplinary teams abroad. All students receive academic training in theories and tools of community development, as well as team dynamics and leadership. Any undergraduate or recent graduate seeking hands-on development field experience paired with comprehensive academic preparation and reflection may apply. GESI sites include Bolivia, Dominican Republic, India, Kenya, Nicaragua, or Uganda (Please note: for our sites in Bolivia, the Dominican Republic, and Nicaragua, students are required to have 1 year of college Spanish, or the equivalent).

There are two 2016 sessions: the summer session (June 13-August 18) and the fall session (September 11-December 10). Complete the application process online by Wednesday, February 10, 2016 for the fall session, and by Tuesday, March 1, 2016 for the summer session. Summer applications are considered on a rolling basis, so apply as early as possible. To learn more, visit the GESI website, or call the GESI office at 847-491-5932.

Study Abroad in Italy with CIMBA

CIMBA offers semester and summer programs in Italy for undergraduate students. Courses are available in business, economics, journalism, communication studies, beginning Italian and engineering. Students receive University of Iowa credit for courses completed as part of this program. Semester participants can take 12-18 credits and summer session students receive 6 credits. Courses are taught in English and emphasize current international events. For a list of the courses offered, click here.

The CIMBA undergraduate campus is located in the quaint Italian town of Paderno del Grappa, offering students an opportunity to live in an authentic Italian village. Located at the foot of the Dolomite Mountains in the northern Veneto region of Italy, Paderno is also just 50 miles North-West of Venice, making for an easy day-trip to one of the most famous cities in all of Italy.

CIMBA’s tuition is all-inclusive and covers tuition, room & board, a meal plan, textbooks, housekeeping needs, laundry, cultural excursions, and most on-campus needs. The CIMBA program offers both need and merit based financial awards for qualifying students. Program costs are based on projected Euro exchange rate and are subject to change. Airfare, travel in Europe, and personal expenses are not included in the program cost. A study abroad fee of $400 is charged on the U-bill of University of Iowa students registered for this study abroad program. To apply, visit www.cimbaitaly.com/apply. Students are encouraged to apply by the program’s preferred date (Undergraduate Summer: February 15; Fall: April 15; Spring: October 15); however, applications will continue to be accepted on a rolling basis. For questions regarding studying abroad with CIMBA or more information, students are encouraged to visit the CIMBA office in the Tippie College of Business (C300 PBB).

Volunteer at the UI Job & Internship Fair on February 24

The UI Spring Job & Internship Fair will be held at the IMU on Wednesday, February 24th and we are looking for student volunteers to assist with directions, set-up and check-in. As a volunteer, you also have the option of including your one-page resume in a printed resume book, which will be distributed to each of the employers at the fair. Student volunteers will also receive a t-shirt. This is also a great way to find out what a Career Fair is like even if you're not ready to look for a job or internship yet.

To learn more or sign-up for a volunteering shift, please visit the link listed below: http://www.signupgenius.com/go/60b054da4a62fa02-spring2

Please register for a volunteer spot by Monday, Feb. 15. If you have any questions about volunteering for the Fair, please feel free to contact the Events Coordinator at pcceventsfa@gmail.com.

Become an OnIowa! Leader

Looking for leadership opportunities on campus? Applications are open for On Iowa! leaders.

Successful On Iowa! leaders:
• Enjoy interacting with and helping their peers
• Look for the opportunity to develop their leadership skills
• Will represent the University of Iowa in a positive manner (Go Hawks!)
• Are open-minded, approachable, and positive in nature
• Like to have fun

The On Iowa! leader role caters to undergraduate students who either do not have a lot of leadership experience (but are eager to earn some) to the well-seasoned campus leader. Leaders are provided with training to be successful in leading a small group of peers and to navigate the On Iowa! program. Leaders must have at least a 2.33 UI GPA and be in good citizenship standing (no active discipline record) with the University. Leaders must also be enrolled as an undergraduate student in the Fall 2016 semester.

Applications available at http://oniowa.uiowa.edu/apply until Thursday, February 18 at 11:59 p.m.

Leadership Opportunity:
Apply to Serve on the 2016 Homecoming Council

The University of Iowa Homecoming Council is responsible for the coordination and execution of one of the largest student run events, Homecoming Week (Sept 25-Oct 1, 2016)! Throughout the year, the Homecoming Executive Council works extremely hard to plan a great week of Hawkeye themed events.

Being on the Homecoming Executive Council is a big responsibility. It requires a large time commitment during the year, so please consider carefully whether or not you are able to make that commitment. Additionally, the Council will be required to sell Homecoming buttons before EVERY home football game (leading up to and including the Homecoming game). There will be weekly meetings beginning in March and continuing throughout the spring/fall and into Homecoming Week.

Eligibility: All students are encouraged and invited to apply to be a part of Homecoming Council. The leadership skills and experience gained by being a member are invaluable for future success and can be applied in numerous ways in future endeavors. A variety of positions are available; position descriptions and application available at https://orgsync.com/17251/forms/178147.

Applications are due by 5:00 pm, Friday, February 5, 2016. If you have any questions, please contact Executive Director Robert Hart (robert-f-hart@uiowa.edu). Interviews will be held the week of February 8, 2016. Individual times will be given closer to that date.

Summer Research Initiative to Increase Diversity

The University of Maryland, College Park is the flagship campus in the University of Maryland system and is home to first-class researchers and research facilities. The university’s location, just nine miles from downtown Washington, D.C. and approximately 30 miles from Baltimore, provides access to some of the finest libraries, research centers, and professional opportunities in the country.

UMD BSOS Summer Research Initiative (SRI)
Our program provides rising juniors and seniors an opportunity to increase their interest in research careers in the social and behavioral sciences, develop research skills, and learn about doctoral training with the goal of encouraging students to pursue doctoral degrees in the social and behavioral sciences. The program has a special emphasis on population groups underrepresented in these fields (i.e., African Americans, Hispanics, American Indians, Alaska Natives, Native Hawaiians or other Pacific Islanders).

Program Details
This 8-week program will be held on the University of Maryland, College Park campus from May 30 - July 22, 2016. Students are required to arrive on campus on Saturday, May 28th for mandatory Saturday and Sunday program orientation, but SRI programming will officially begin on Tuesday, May 31st due to the Memorial Day holiday. Students will be provided a meaningful research experience by working with a faculty mentor in one of our nine academic departments (visit http://www.bsos.umd.edu for department list). We also supplement the research experience with lectures, workshops, and networking opportunities. Students are provided round-trip airfare, meals, room and board in university on-campus housing and $3,150 (before taxes – amount includes stipend and meal allowances).

Basic Eligibility
- Junior or senior status by Fall 2016
- U.S. citizen or permanent resident status
- Intent to pursue a Ph.D. in the social and behavioral sciences
- We are especially interested in applications from students underrepresented in the social, behavioral, and economic sciences

Questions? Visit our website http://ter.ps/BSOSSRI or contact us bsossri@umd.edu

To apply, visit the CIC SROP website, click “Campus Profiles,” and select University of Maryland http://www.cic.net/students/srop/introduction

Application deadline: February 10, 2016

The Iowa human rights academic network invites submissions addressing human rights issues for its student research conference on April 9, 2016, in Iowa City. February 19 is the deadline to submit proposals for papers or posters/other presentations in two categories: 1) Iowa’s social justice legacy and future or 2) general human rights issues. Students will receive notification of acceptance by early March, and papers will be grouped into themed panels with faculty respondents assigned. Final papers are due by March 25.

Submission Details

- We welcome proposals from students at any Iowa college or university.
- Proposals are submitted using this form and should include an abstract of up to 1,000 characters. Abstracts can be copied and pasted into the online form.
- Students should include the name of a supervising instructor who will receive a copy of the proposal.
- Deadline for submission of proposals is February 19.
- Notification of acceptance and panel assignments will be given in early March.
- Final papers are due March 25. Final papers between 3,000-6,000 words are preferred, but all submissions will be considered.
- Papers will be entered into the Burns H. Weston International Human Rights Essay Contest. Graduate and undergraduate awardees selected by respective committees will be announced at the conference.

Conference Details

- The conference is hosted by the University of Iowa Center for Human Rights as part of UI’s social justice theme semester, Just Living.
- The conference takes place Sat., April 9, at the University of Iowa College of Law.
