Spring 2013 Class Syllabus
University of Iowa School of Journalism and Mass Communications
Magazine Writing and Reporting
19:122:SCA (4 s.h.)

4:30P - 6:20P TTh W236 AJB

Instructor: Anne Duggan
Office: E350D AJB
Office hours: TuTh 6:20-7:20, W 12-1, and by appointment
anne-duggan@uiowa.edu

Departmental DEO: Director, School of Journalism and Mass Communications, David Perlmutter, E305 Adler Journalism Building, 384-3833.

Administrative Home
The College of Liberal Arts and Sciences is the administrative home of this course and governs matters such as the add/drop deadlines, the second-grade-only option, and other related issues. Different colleges may have different policies. Questions may be addressed to 120 Schaeffer Hall, or see the CLAS Academic Policies Handbook at clas.uiowa.edu/students/handbook

Electronic Communication
University policy specifies that students are responsible for all official correspondences sent to their University of Iowa e-mail address (@uiowa.edu). Faculty and students should use this account for correspondences. (Operations Manual, III.15.2. Scroll down to k.11.)

Accommodations for Disabilities
A student seeking academic accommodations should first register with Student Disability Services and then meet privately with the course instructor to make particular arrangements. See www.uiowa.edu/~sds/ for more information.

Academic Honesty
All CLAS students have, in essence, agreed to the College's Code of Academic Honesty: "I pledge to do my own academic work and to excel to the best of my abilities, upholding the IOWA Challenge. I promise not to lie about my academic work, to cheat, or to steal the words or ideas of others; nor will I help fellow students to violate the Code of Academic Honesty." Any student committing academic misconduct is reported to the College and placed on disciplinary probation or may be suspended or expelled (CLAS Academic Policies Handbook).

CLAS Final Examination Policies
The date and time of every final examination is announced during the fifth week of the semester; each CLAS student will receive an email from the Registrar stating the dates and times of the student's final exams. Final exams are offered only during the official final examination period. No exams of any kind are allowed during the last week of classes. All students should plan on being at the UI through the final examination period.

Making a Suggestion or a Complaint
Students with a suggestion or complaint should first visit the instructor, then the course supervisor, and then the departmental DEO. Complaints must be made within six months of the incident. See the CLAS Academic Policies Handbook.

Understanding Sexual Harassment
Sexual harassment subverts the mission of the University and threatens the well-being of students, faculty, and staff. All members of the UI community have a responsibility to uphold this mission and to contribute to a safe environment that enhances learning. Incidents of sexual harassment should be reported immediately. See the UI Comprehensive Guide on Sexual Harassment for assistance, definitions, and the full University policy.

Reacting Safely to Severe Weather
In severe weather, class members should seek appropriate shelter immediately, leaving the classroom if necessary. The class will continue if possible when the event is over. For more information on Hawk Alert and the siren warning system, visit the Public Safety website.
COURSE OVERVIEW

In news writing, we were taught to write in an inverted pyramid, with the 5 W’s at the top and narrowing to less factual information at the end. A magazine article is more of a rectangle, where the lede sets the scene, the body of the story is a bridge that supports the structure, and the ending takes you to your destination.

In this class, you will study three general types of magazine-length articles: profile, trend or informational, and enterprise or investigative. You will have a fair degree of latitude to choose a subject that interests you. However, all final topics must be reviewed and approved by the instructor. In addition, you will be expected to complete a number of smaller exercises.

Good writing seems flawless and easy. Writing is surprisingly difficult. Much of it involves ruthless editing, rewriting, and review. One of my favorite quotes is, “I love being a writer. It’s the paperwork I can’t stand.” Even in this electronic age, where an entire piece can be pitched, researched, and produced electronically, “paperwork” is the amount of time and energy the writer needs to devote to make it coherent and whole.

Basic writing is a technique and can be learned. Good writing is an art that takes work. You can learn all the techniques but great writing is enriched with knowledge, experience, and a curiosity about the world. If you aren’t at least curious about your subject, about the world it lives in, and the subject it addresses, you will be a journeyman, not a master craftsman.

One note: In addition to strict ideas and great copy, editors expect strict adherence to deadlines. In this class, you are expected to do the same.

In addition, you are encouraged to keep in mind The Iowa Dozen throughout this course. These competencies and values reflect the ways in which this course will contribute to your overall journalism education. They listed at the end of the syllabus.
Expectations
Attendance is required and will be taken.

As noted below (under “Grading”), attendance counts for 10 percent of your overall grade. You are allowed one unexcused absence during the semester; however, you will receive a zero on any short assignments that take place during that class. If a reading is assigned during a class you miss, it is your responsibility to get it from one of your classmates or from ICON. It is also your responsibility to get class notes from a classmate. Please do not ask your instructor to “fill you in” on what you missed. Students with excellent attendance and participation generally receive a better grade.

Excused absences are those that have been discussed with the instructor and approved ahead of time (no later than the class period before the one you will miss). I will not accept any excuse sent by email on the day of the class as an excused absence.

You are expected to be on time to class. This is not only courteous to your fellow students and the instructor; it is also expected. If a situation will get you to class late on a regular basis, discuss it with me as soon as possible. Courtesy and civility in dealing with fellow students and the instructor are also expected. We will spend a number of class sessions workshopping your work. Even the most experienced writers can find the workshopping experience difficult. During workshops, focus on content, structure, and mechanics. The content and the beliefs reflected in the stories are to be treated respectfully.

Deadlines
Deadlines in this class are absolute. All papers will be due in writing at the beginning of the class period. There will be no printing of assignments in class. No make-up work will be allowed, except for assignments due during excused absences. If you are taking an excused absence on the day an assignment is due, your assignment will still be due at the assigned time.
Cell phones and other communications devices must be turned off during class. You may use laptops in class to read articles that are under discussion. In addition, there will be times when we go online to check sources or other information on the Web. However, it is obvious when you are checking Facebook, Twitter, chatting, or emailing during class. DO NOT DO THIS.

I shouldn’t have to point this out, but it is especially important to give presenters and guests your full attention. Please give them the full attention you would expect in their place.

Reading & Writing
Stay up-to-date on local and world events by reading daily periodicals. Reading assignments may be made based on the New York Times print edition. Other assignments will be distributed in class or be available electronically. You should come to class ready to discuss all assigned readings for the class. Part of your grade will be based on participation in class discussions.

Grammar and style: Use “spell check,” but verify.

Spelling: It counts. (WARNING: Instructor fixation)

Some excellent web sources of magazine/long form articles are:

www.instapaper.com
umagazinology.jhu.edu (looks at the best of University magazines)
blog.longform.org/

Required class text (Available at Prairie Lights Bookstore under the instructor’s name and this course number)

Associated Press Stylebook 2011

Subscribe to Iowa Center for Public Affairs Journalism’s newsletter, Iowa Watch.org

Writing Tools is also available through the Student_Dropbox volume on jmcserv.uiowa.uiowa.edu. You can copy the audio files from there.

Windows:
From the Start menu, enter the following in the Search box at the bottom of Start menu:
\jmcserv.uiowa.uiowa.edu\Student_Dropbox\Roys_Writing_Tools

Mac:
From the Finder, select Connect to Server from the Go menu and enter the following address in the dialog box:
afp://jmcserv.uiowa.uiowa.edu/Student_Dropbox/
Roys_Writing_Tools

You are strongly recommended to read the New York Times daily. Class discussions, in addition to focusing on the readings, will bring in information from other timely sources. Free copies of the New York Times are available to students in designated boxes across campus, including the AJB.
Other great books on writing

Eats, Shoots and Leaves, The Zero Tolerance Approach to Punctuation, Lynne Truss, Gotham Books,

On Writing, A Memoir of the Craft, Stephen King, Scribner

Bird by Bird, Some Instructions on Writing and Life, Anne Lamott, Anchor Books

The Elements of Style, William Strunk and E. B. White, many editions

Online references

Elements of Style Online (searchable), http://www.bartleby.com/141/

For current editing issues, follow #APStyle on Twitter
ASSIGNMENTS

A. One 350-500 word piece describing someone who raised you.
B. Shorter assignments, including an interview exercise, written ideas for articles, writing exercises, and presentations will be assigned during the semester.
C. One 750-1,200 word personality profile. This should not be the person from assignment A.
D. One 1,200-2,000 word trend/service/informational, travel, community news, personal essay, or behind-the-scenes story, drawing on local events, sources, and issues.
E. One 1,800-2,500 word enterprise story—a feature that explores in depth and idea, event, question, controversy, or trend. One “source” for your story should be a report or other research material.

Assignments C, D, and E should be written with a particular publication in mind. All story topics must be approved in advance by the instructor.

Grading
In magazine writing, you are judged by what you can put down on paper. You are also judged by your ability to meet deadlines, to provide accurate and clean copy, and make timely revisions. This is also true for this class.

Your three articles (C, D, and E) are worth 20, 20, and 25 percent, respectively, of your overall grade. Because your instructor also reads your drafts, as part of the workshop process, your improvement and willingness to incorporate corrections and edits will be noted. (A=exceptional work, B=very good work, C=average work, D=unacceptable work, F=failing.)

Your writing will be graded on content (background research, sources, reporting, complexity), writing skill and style (voice, transitions, complex sentences, interesting word choice), and mechanics (grammar, spelling, organization, etc). Revisions between your first draft and final story should show that you have listened to comments made by your classmates and instructor during workshopping. Significant revisions that greatly improve a piece improve your chances of getting a better grade. However, changes alone don’t guarantee a higher grade. You must also pay attention to content, writing and style, and mechanics. If you have any questions about your grade, please see me.

Class attendance is worth 15 percent of your grade.

Preparation, participation, following instructions, etc., are worth 10 percent of the grade.

Short assignments will be noted as 5=exceptional, 4=good, 3=satisfactory, 2=unsatisfactory, or 0=non-existent. They are cumulatively worth 10 percent of your grade.

Final Exam

Your Enterprise project will be considered your final for the class. The specific time and date will be announced by the Registrar during the first half of the semester. Your instructor will announce the final date/time in class and post it to the class ICON page.
Calendar

This schedule is subject to change, depending on the availability of guest speakers, etc. Any changes will be announced in class and on the class ICON page. Additional information and any changes to the syllabus and/or class schedule will be posted on the course’s ICON page.

WEEK 1

1/22: Welcome
Introductions, course overview, review of syllabus, review of first assignment due 1/29. One subject we will discuss is the difference of reports vs. stories, in Writing Tools.

In-class assignment: answer a short questionnaire about your interests and reading habits. Included among these will be question “If you were writing an article about yourself, what would you write?” We’ll share the responses.

1/24: Readings
Read assigned articles, noted below. Think about what works and what doesn’t. What interested you as a reader? What do you think about the writing process? There are two surprises in these stories (one each). A hint about the Kanye story: This story was an award winner in 2011 and was acclaimed because it bridged celebrity “access” and social media. How do you think about the two articles you’ve read after you listened to the Writing Tools chapters. Have our authors followed the “rules?”

“Kanye West Has A Goblet,” Slate, Aug. 25, 2010, www.slate.com/articles/arts/culturebox/2010/08/
kanye_west_has_a_goblet.html

Writing Tools, #1 “Begin Sentences with Subjects and Verbs,”
#2 “Order Words for Emphasis,” #3 “Activate Your Verbs,” #4
“Be Passive Aggressive”

In-class exercise: Conduct 10-minute interview with assigned classmate, based on the questionnaire answered by your fellow writer. Tell us about your subject and how you would structure a profile of him or her.

Assignment due 1/29: Write a 350-500 word profile describing one of the people who raised you. Turn in paper version at start of class.
This will be graded as a short assignment (A).

A note about “Presentations”: On many Thursdays, members of the class will each be responsible for choosing and presenting an article to be shared and discussed with the class. The articles must be chosen from among a list of posted genres and the article approved by the instructor.

Week 2

1/29:
Assignment
Due at beginning of class: 350-500 word profile describing one of the people who raised you (A). This will be graded as a short assignment.

Readings
These four articles represent the three types of articles you will be assigned this semester. Read and be prepared to discuss the characteristics that make them what they are. How are they similar?
How are they different from each other? Note the lede and where it comes in the story. Be prepared to suggest other stories that fit these descriptions.
Profile: How does this relate to Passion?

Trend/Informational: How is this informational? What do you learn from it?

Enterprise: What makes this an investigational piece? What’s the “call to action?”

1/31:
Class Presentations
See Class ICON site for requirements and responsibilities for Class Presentations

Readings
Clarks’s Writing Tools, #5 Watch Those Adverbs,” #6 “Take it Easy on the “-ings, #7 “Fear Not the Long Sentence”

Assignment
Bring to class THREE profile story ideas you might like to write, along with the type of publications in which they might appear. Pay particular attention to what it means to write for different audiences. These may or may not be the ideas you end up using for your assignments. Be prepared to share and we’ll talk about these ideas as a class. Turn in your printed list of ideas at the end of class. This will be graded as a short assignment.
Week 3—Profiles

2/5:

Assignment

The draft of your profile is due 2/11. The final version is due 2/19. Continue to refine your profile topic. Use Clark’s #40 “Draft a Mission Statement for Your Work” to hone your story idea. It doesn’t have to be as long as the one he cites—2-3 sentences should do it. Bring to class a printed summary of your profile topic (Assignment C), including a mission statement and a list of sources, to pitch to the class. Your fellow writers will help you think about your story. Turn in printed sheets at the end of the class period.

Readings

http://nymag.com/arts/all/features/17244/

“Joan Rivers Always Knew She Was Funny,” www.nymag.com/movies/features/66181

Can You Say … “Hero”? by Tom Junod, Pittsburgh in Words
http://www.pittsburghinwords.org/tom_junod.html

2/7:

Class Presentations

Readings

Clark’s Writing Tools #8 “Establish a Pattern, Then Give it a Twist,” #9 “Punctuating with Power and Purpose,” #11 “Prefer the Simple Over the Technical”

Sign up for workshop session. Review workshopping principles (download worksheet from ICON). If you are not in class on 2/7, instructor will assign workshop sessions. Workshop assignments will be posted to class’ ICON page.
Week 4
All profile drafts must be uploaded to folder in ICON dropbox by midnight on Monday, 2/11. All drafts must be uploaded by deadline, regardless of your workshop session.

2/12:
WORKSHOP
Read and be prepared to discuss drafts for workshop group #1, according to workshop principles.

2/14:
WORKSHOP
Read and comment on drafts for workshop group #2 and be prepared to discuss each submitted draft, according to workshop principles.

Week 5 — Trend/Informational
Final paper versions of Profile (C) due to instructor at start of 2/19 class session.

2/19
Readings

2/21:
Class Presentations
Readings
Roy’s Writing Tools, #14 “Get the Name of the Dog,” #15 “Pay Attention to Names, #28 “Put Odd and Interesting Things Next to Each Other,” #34, “Turn Your Notebook into a ‘Camera’”

Assignment
Bring to class, in writing, three trend/informational story ideas that interest you. Be prepared to discuss. Hand in to instructor at end of class.

Week 6 — Trend/Informational

2/26:
Readings

“The Hunter Games,” New Yorker, 7/2/12, PDF is available on ICON and Resource Center

Assignment
Bring to class a printed summary of your trend/informational topic (assignment D), including a mission statement and a list of sources, to pitch to the class. Your fellow writers will help you think about your story. Turn in printed sheets at the end of the class period.
2/28:

Class Presentations

Readings
Roy’s Writing Tools, #18, “Set the Pace with Sentence Length,” #19, “Vary the Lengths of Paragraphs”

Week 7—Trend/Informational

Continue thinking about what a trend/informational piece could be. How can you use your writing skills to capture the reader’s attention and teach us something?

3/5: Class cancelled

3/7:
Readings

“Millennials Struggle with Financial Literacy,” USA Today, April 23, 2012
http://www.usatoday.com/money/perfi/basics/story/2012-04-23/millenials-financial-knowledge/54494856/1

Class Presentations

Readings
Clark’s Writing Tools, #37 “Shape Shorter Works with Wit and Polish,” #38 “Use Subtle Symbols, not Crashing Cymbals”

Assignment
Outline your trend/informational story by sections, as we have discussed in class. If we have time, you will share your outline in class with other writers.

Week 8—Trend/Informational

3/12:
Sign up for workshop.

Readings

Also watch:
http://www.youtube.com/watch?v=hnOPu0_YWhw

3/14:
Class Presentations

Sign up for Workshop

NOTE:
Trend/Informational drafts are due 3/24. All versions must be uploaded to ICON folder by midnight, 3/24 (Sunday night).

SPRING BREAK: March 17-24
Week 9 — Trend/Informational Workshop

3/26:
Workshop trend/informational story.

3/28:
Workshop trend/informational story.

Week 10 — Enterprise

4/2:

Readings:

http://www.youtube.com/watch?v=hnOPu0_YWhw

4/7
Week 11 — Enterprise

Trend/Informational story (D) final print version due at beginning of class session, 4/9.

4/9:
Readings
Pay close attention to the structure of the articles. What is the writer trying to say to the reader? Look at how they are organized, and how the reader is brought along to understand the point of the story.

Assignment
Bring to class 2-3 ideas for Enterprise story (E), including possible sources, in writing, to pitch to the class. Turn in written versions at end of class session. Be prepared to discuss in some depth Enterprise story (E) with class

4/11:
Class Presentation

Readings
Writing Tools, #24, “Work from a Plan,” #25 “Learn the Difference Between Reports and Stories”

Assignment
We will continue to share Enterprise story ideas.
Week 12 — Enterprise

4/16:
Readings

Assignment
Bring to class a printed summary of your enterprise topic (assignment E), including a mission statement and a list of sources, to pitch to the class. Your fellow writers will help you think about your story. Turn in printed sheets at the end of the class period.

4/18:
Class Presentations

Week 13 — Enterprise

4/23:
Readings

4/25:
Class presentations

Week 14
4/30: TBA
5/2: TBA
Sign up for workshopping session.

Enterprise story (E) must be posted to appropriate folder in ICON dropbox by noon on 5/5.

Week 15
5/7: Workshop group #1
5/9: Workshop group #2

Week 16
Final version of Enterprise story (E) due in my office by date TBA. Registrar releases date of final exam by fifth week. Final date will be posted on ICON page.

The Iowa Dozen
As one of more than 100 programs in journalism and mass communication accredited by the Accrediting Council for Education in Journalism and Mass Communication (ACEJMC), we assess student learning to assure that each of our graduates meets the following standards.

We learn to…

Write correctly, clearly and well.

Conduct research and gather information responsibly.

Edit and evaluate carefully.

Use media technologies thoughtfully.

Apply statistical concepts accurately.

We value…

Free speech and First Amendment principles for all individuals and groups.

A diverse global community.

Creativity and independence.

Truth, accuracy and fairness.

We explore…

Theories and concepts.

The history, structure and economy of media institutions

The role of media in shaping cultures.