COURSE OBJECTIVE:
This course will explore the notion of racialism in various genres of mass communication, specifically radio/music, television/cable, film, Internet, and print media. We will analyze and discuss contemporary images and messages in the media related to African-American culture paying close attention to the impact of stereotypes, insensitivity, racism, myths, stigmas, negative representations and biased framing.

TEXT:
The weekly readings can be found on the class ICON site. Readings are listed in the course outline below for each week. Every student is required to complete all assigned readings and reading responses. This reading material will be synthesized, debated, and critically evaluated through class discussions, critiques and presentations. Additional readings may also be assigned throughout the semester.

GE GOALS & OBJECTIVES: Cultural Diversity
Cultural Diversity courses foster greater understanding of the diversity of cultures in the United States and provide knowledge and critical understanding of these cultures. Most courses focus on one or more non-dominant cultures or peoples of the United States. Although some include comparative study with cultures outside the United States, the primary focus is on the experience within the US. Students may use 3 s.h. of course work approved in this area to partially complete the Distributed General Education component of the General Education Program.

NOTES:
ADMINISTRATIVE HOME - The College of Liberal Arts and Sciences is the administrative home of this course and governs matters such as the add/drop deadlines, the second-grade-only option, and other related issues. Different colleges may have different policies. Questions may be addressed to 120 Schaeffer Hall or see the CLAS Student Academic Handbook. www.clas.uiowa.edu/students/academic_handbook/index.shtml

DISABILITY - I would like to hear from anyone who has a disability which may need some modification of seating, testing or other class requirements so that appropriate arrangements can be made. Please see me after class or during my office hours.

EMAIL - Make sure your email account is active and connected to the University system so that you can get J-MC School, UI and class messages. You should check your email regularly. University policy specifies that students are responsible for all official correspondences sent to their University of Iowa e-mail address (@uiowa.edu). Faculty and students should use this account for correspondences. (Operations Manual, III.15.2. Scroll down to k.11.)

ATTENDANCE - Attendance is mandatory. Every class is important so please don’t ask my permission to miss a class. Missing 30 minutes of any one class can be considered an absence. If you must miss a class you will need to provide a written explanation and adequate documentation for me to consider suspending the penalty. Because this class meets only once a week missing one class is the same as missing three.

DEADLINES - Deadlines in this class are firm. Late assignments must be pre-approved. NO assignment will be extended more than one week past the deadline – NO exceptions. It is your responsibility to turn in your assignments directly to the professor when they are due. If you turn in an assignment in some other way (under office door or in box), at some other time (before or after due date), the professor are not responsible if it is lost or misplaced. It is always a good idea to keep a copy in case there is a problem.
UNIVERSITY EXAM POLICY - Final Examinations. An undergraduate student who has two final examinations scheduled for the same period or more than three examinations scheduled for the same day may file a request for a change of schedule before the published deadline at the Registrar’s Service Center, 17 Calvin Hall, 8-4:30 M-F, (384-4300). Missed exam policy. University policy requires that students be permitted to make up examinations missed because of illness, mandatory religious obligations, certain University activities, or unavoidable circumstances. Excused absence forms are required and are available at the Registrar web site: http://www.registrar.uiowa.edu/forms/absence.pdf

RESOURCES – The College of Liberal Arts & Sciences offers a number of resources for student success. For example: The Writing Center, The Speaking Center and Tutor Iowa. The School of Journalism Resource Center (E350 Adler) also offers a broad range of help including computer access, writing assistance and relevant journalism materials.

CHANGES - It may be necessary to make changes in the syllabus according to how readings, videos, and assignments flow throughout the semester. A number of new videos have been ordered. A currently listed video in the syllabus may be replaced by a new one depending on arrival date.

WARNING - If any of the videos shown in class are offensive to you talk to the professor. You are not required to stay and view them. However, each video has been selected because of its appropriateness to the particular section studied. And all are available on television or from video stores.

SUGGESTIONS OR COMPLAINTS - Student complaints concerning the professor - first attempt to resolve the matter with the professor, if you are still not able to settle it go to department executive officer, Dr. Horace Porter. Complaints must be made within six months of the incident. www.clas.uiowa.edu/students/academic_handbook/ix.shtml#5

COLLABORATION – Each student for the group project is expected to complete a similar amount of work and to contribute equally. If, the professor receives a complaint, each student will be required to complete a self-evaluation describing the equality or the lack of it during the group’s work. Students who misrepresent themselves as equal partners in this collaborative project but who are actually letting others do the bulk of the work will be reported to the College for academic dishonesty.

SEVERE WEATHER OR OTHER CRISIS – If there is a weather or other crisis members of the class should seek appropriate shelter and stay until the crisis is over. In the case of really bad weather, please check your email before coming to class. If the class is cancelled I will send an email notice as far ahead as possible. (Operations Manual, Part IV, 16. items e, h, and i.)

ACADEMIC MISCONDUCT - Plagiarism and misconduct happens when students present work that is not their own. It is academic fraud. Cheating includes copying someone else's work or purposefully allowing someone else to copy your work. Disciplinary actions - the professor will inform you immediately of the allegation. If found guilty you will receive an F on the assignment, you may also receive an F in the entire course, probation, suspension or even expulsion. Academic fraud is a serious matter and is reported to the departmental DEO and to the Associate Dean for Undergraduate Programs and Curriculum. Instructors and DEOs decide on consequences at the departmental level while CLAS may enforce additional consequences at the collegiate level. www.clas.uiowa.edu/students/academic_handbook/ix.shtml

SEXUAL HARASSMENT - Sexual harassment subverts the mission of the University and threatens the well-being of students, faculty, and staff. Visit www.sexualharassment.uiowa.edu for definitions, assistance, and the full University policy.

INAPPROPRIATE USE OF COMPUTER OR CELL PHONE - Once class starts you may not use the computer to check your email, go on Facebook or any other computer activity outside of class work. You will lose 5 points each time the professor discovers an inappropriate use of the computer. It is rude and unacceptable to work on the computer while the professor or fellow students are presenting to the class. Please be respectful at all times.
RIGHTS AND RESPONSIBILITIES - Student Rights and Responsibilities means that you will respect the other members of the class, including the professor, and treat everyone with the same courtesy you want to receive in return. Students have the right to a classroom environment that encourages learning. The ability to learn is lessened when students engage in inappropriate classroom behavior arguing with or distracting others; such behavior also is a violation of the Code of Student Life. When disruptive activity occurs, the professor has the authority to determine classroom seating patterns and to request that a student exit the classroom, laboratory, or other area used for instruction immediately for the remainder of the period. One-day suspensions are reported to appropriate departmental, collegiate, and Student Services personnel (Office of the Vice President for Student Services and Dean of Students).

GRADING:

You must earn 60% of the available points in order to pass this class. This means there are rigorous expectations. Assignments will be graded with these guidelines in mind: A = Exceptional work, B = Very good work, C = Average work, D = Poor work, F = Unacceptable work. Grades are not based on percentages, but on points. The final grade will be based on the total points earned for all class assignments and activities (see grade scale below). Plus/minus grading will only be allocated for the final grade and only if the total points are on the cut off. (Example: 200 points = A+/ 185 points = A-). You should plan to put sufficient time and attention into this class. The College of Liberal Arts and Sciences suggests that students work at least two hours outside class per week for each semester hour of course credit.

ASSIGNMENT DESCRIPTIONS:

Critique – a maximum 5 pages, plus footnotes and/or bibliography. You will write a critique examining a contemporary issue focusing on African Americans and the media. This is a critical evaluation that requires extensive research. It is not a personal essay (see attached critique handout for details). Wikipedia and other unreliable Internet sources will not be accepted as documentation for this assignment.

Graduate Student Critique – Instead of a five-page critique, graduate students are required to write a 12 page critique/research paper. It will be an in-depth critical analysis of a major area of interest related to an issue concerning African-Americans and the media. All graduate students must set up an appointment to meet with the professor outside of class to discuss their proposed final paper no later than October 11th.

Group Framing Exercise – You will be divided into groups of two or three. Each group will identify an article that has a specific frame related to an African American issue. Participants will read the article as either the first, second or third reader answering the specific questions. Finally, the group will prepare a 10 minute presentation for the class on their article and findings.

Presentation - Each student will prepare a seven to ten-minute final presentation for the class on a topic of interest that relates to African Americans and media. Another 2 minutes will be allotted for questions-answers-discussion. A one-page abstract/outline on the topic must be prepared and distributed to all class members (25 copies). Audio, video, or print examples must be included in presentation but should be no longer than 3 minutes. Your final critique can be used as the basis for this presentation.
Reading essays – There are 18 assigned readings (2 each week). You will write a maximum 1 page reaction essay for both readings together. For your reaction, specifically focus on something you relate to, something you don’t agree with or something that is interesting in both papers. Make sure you clearly include both readings in your essay otherwise you will get credit for only one. Must be submitted in normal typeface (12/14 Times) and double-spaced. These will not be graded but in order to receive the points it must be a well thought out response. Essays must be submitted during the class where the readings are discussed - NO exceptions!!!!! Essays should not be sent through email unless approved by the professor.

Media diary – You will keep a weekly diary throughout the semester identifying and documenting specific examples of racialism in the media. Briefly explain what you read, watched or listened to, and the connection to racialism. Six-week midterm and six-week final diary submissions is required. For the midterm (between August 30th – October 3th) hand in your diary notes and pull out three specific racialism samples to discuss in more detail (for example - a copy of a problematic newspaper article, magazine ad or downloaded video, etc.). For the final diary (between October 4th – December 5th) hand in your diary notes and three detailed examples the same way. Both the midterm and final diaries should be no more than 6 pages, plus samples. Your media diary should include a minimum of three entries each week (minimum total entries - 18). Your entries must focus on a critique of the media NOT a general race issue.

Participation – This is a discussion class, therefore class discussion is a very important component. Points will be distributed based on your contribution to class discussions. Minimum contribution/rarely speak 10pts. – average contribution/sometimes speak 20pts. – exceptional contribution/always speak 30pts. All members of the class must be respectful to each other when speaking or responding. No exceptions!!!!

Extra Credit/Racialism Blog – You can receive extra by participating in the Midwest Cultural Think Tank - Racialism Blog weekly. Post an image with an explanation and/or respond to an already posted image on the blog site.

Critique and Final Graduate Student Paper Guidelines

Your 5 page critique/12 page graduate paper will explore a contemporary issue of interest that involves an analysis of the connection between African American culture and the media. This is a critique of the media so you can choose – radio, television, film, Internet, cable/satellite, print (books, magazines, newspapers), etc. to examine. Six pages is a small assignment, so you should select a focused topic and explore it in-depth (for example- an analysis of the stereotypes found in the movie Bringing Down the House) rather than choosing a broad topic and only covering the surface (like a general analysis of stereotypes in black films over a ten year period).

This is not a personal essay, but an in-depth critique, therefore you are expected to include other critical viewpoints, related resources and specific examples to confirm or highlight the point(s) you want to make. The critique/paper should be a mix of your main ideas, other critical viewpoints and relevant examples. Critiques must be... typed in an average typeface such as Times 12/14 and double-spaced. Critiques will be graded on clarity/logic, depth of critical analysis, structure/organization, grammar/other mechanics and endnotes/bibliography.

You are required to include a minimum of six citations in your text and bibliography using MLA style. No more than two citations can come from the assigned readings and no more than one from an Internet site (This means - if you look up a book or magazine on the Internet the bibliographic citation must still be written in appropriate MLA style NOT www.Newsweek.com).

An example structure for this critique/paper includes an introduction (explain what the critique/paper will cover), background information (your main points, ideas from outside resources/critics and reference information), an analysis section (discussion of key elements or issues explain how they fit or don’t fit with main points, connect to outside critiques and document with examples. Finally, finish with a conclusion that briefly summarizes the most important points and findings.

You are not required to, but you can use the questions below (as many as you like) to stimulate your analysis:
1. Describe the messages and images involved in your media example.
2. Explain how the messages/images are positive, negative, biased or problematic.
3. Are the messages/images aimed at a specific audience, why or why not?
4. Have or could such messages/images influence/impact you? How?
5. Contrast how such messages/images could influence/impact the African American community specifically and/or influence/impact general mainstream society.
6. Are these messages/images reinforced/perpetuated at school, home, church, business or other entity?
7. Are these messages/images altered/contradicted at school, home, church, business or other entity?
8. Explain the historical and cultural context, especially as it may shape the messages/images discussed?
9. How does your analysis relate to the cultural messages/images of other minorities in the media or to other groups such as women, kids, elderly, disabled, gay/lesbian, etc?
10. If you had control, in what ways might you change this message/image to eliminate the issue or problem?
