Course Description:

The purpose of this course is to develop a strategic communication campaign. This class will begin with a review of advertising, marketing communications, and public relations practices. The course focus will then study consumer behavior, media, media segmentation and the creative process. Students will learn how to select a unique combination of communication tools (advertising, public relations, social media, sales promotion, special events and sponsorship) to best communicate their campaign messages and reach their target consumers.

Each student will select a client (either real or hypothetical). Each student will serve as the communications firm and determine all the necessary campaign elements. Students will establish a budget that will accommodate the campaign’s objectives. Each student will develop advertising creative story boards or videos, media placement recommendations, strategic promotions, social media messages and public relations efforts. All students will present their strategic campaign to the class at the completion of the semester. Those students, who have selected a client, may invite the client to the final presentation. The end result will be a new professional portfolio addition and the experience of planning strategic campaigns for the future.

Course Objectives:
By the end of the semester, you will be able to:

a) Develop a strategic communication campaign
b) Write a situation analysis and executive summary
c) Analyze the competition and condition of the marketplace
d) Understand the consumer behavioral research and apply that knowledge to the successful outcome of a campaign
e) Develop clear objectives and tactics which will affect the desired results
f) Develop a creative strategy and interpret that creative message in a variety of media
g) Work within a budget
h) Select the most effective media to fit your objectives, research and budget
i) Develop sales promotions, special events and branding to complement the campaign
j) Dynamically present “sell” the campaign

Course Materials:

Course Requirements:

Students are expected to attend classes regularly, participate in class discussion, and submit all assignments on time. Late submission of assignments will be penalized, as outlined below.

Assignments:

Grades will be comprised of the following assignments:

1) Attendance and class participation:
   Students will be asked to begin each class with real world communication, advertising, public relations, special event and social media campaign examples and discuss with the class what they have presented, why they choose it and how what they chose contributes to a campaign. The purpose of this exercise will be to explore the global marketplace and foster our group conversation. 5%

2) Campaign Analysis paper and discussion: 5%

   This should be a 1 page document to summarize the following:

   A) Target market profile. Describe your customer(s) in detail.

   B) Campaign message and positioning statement – The Big Idea
C) Campaign objectives and tactics

3) Client Proposal Letter. After selecting your campaign client, write a letter (proposal) to your new client, thanking them for the opportunity. Your letter should articulate your campaign objectives by outlining the target audiences, suggesting the goal for the campaign, and some general creative ideas for the campaign. 5%

4) Research Assessment.

This assignment will be done in class. 5%

5) Competitive Analysis.

This assignment will be done in class. 5%

6) Creative Strategy. Workshop. We will explore, as a group your messaging strategy to help you arrive at your big idea. 5%

7) Social Media Assignment/Media Mix

This assignment will be done in class. 5%

8) Situation Analysis. 15%

This document will include an analysis of the most essential aspects of your client’s product/service/company/brand, to date. Your document will address:

a) The industry
b) The company
c) The consumer
d) The product or service
e) Sales
f) The market
g) The competition
h) Previous promotion (advertising, public relations, promotional sales promotion).
i) Any additional aspects which have affected outcomes: geography, seasonality, or environmental challenges
j) Previous budget

This document should be a concisely crafted, clearly stating: who, what, where and why; the product/service/company/brand is in the current position. It is the launching point for your campaign.

We will also take time in class to discuss each situation analysis. The purpose of this discuss will be to share information, gather feedback, validate campaign plan and survey the class for ideas and suggestions. Your presentation and participation will also count in your grade.
9) Campaign presentation. Each class member will be given 30 minutes to make a campaign presentation. 25%

10) Campaign portfolio. Campaign portfolios will present all the campaign materials created: advertisements, storyboards, promotional materials, public relations plans, press releases; special events, timeline, media budget plans and for some, recorded radio spots, website designs, etc. 25%

Attendance and participation:
You are expected to attend class regularly. Attendance will be checked each class period. I will need to know if you are going to miss a class prior to the class. All work must be turned in on time, regardless of whether you are in class or not. Not only are you required to be present for each class you are also expected to actively participate in class discussions. Everyone will be expected to respect all classmates’ opinions.

Course Policies:

Expectations: Class periods will be used for lecture and discussion related to the course. Some of your work will be completed inside of our class time. The CLAS student workload guidelines advise that each semester hour of class should entail around two hours each week of outside preparation for the average student. This means that a three semester hour course like this one, students should expect 8 hours of outside work per week on average, for a total of 12 hours including class time.

In-class behavior:
It goes without saying that you are expected to behave in a professional manner throughout the course with your instructors and peers. This includes:
  a. coming to class on time and not leaving early;
  b. turning off your cell phone or putting it on silent/vibrate;
  c. refraining from the use of the computer for purposes other than the course. This means not checking Face book, e-mail, Twitter, texting, etc. during class.
If you think a grading mistake has been made, please make an appointment with me to discuss it.

Tardiness:
Assignments that are late will lose 1/3 of a grade per day, beginning at the end of class and including weekends and holidays. This means that a paper which would have received an A if it was on time will receive an A- the next day, B+ for two days late, and so on.

Language and style in graded work:
We are in the journalism school, so spelling, grammar, clarity and style, and punctuation are part of your paper grades. I cannot stress enough the importance of good writing. Writing skills are transferable to any field of work/study and will always be beneficial to you regardless of your professional plans for the future.

Online communication:
I am happy to answer any e-mails with questions, comments or concerns. However, they should be sent through your Hawk e-mail account and I will respond only to that account, as outlined in the CLAS policy. I will respond to your e-mail in a timely manner (within 24 – 48 hours). On weekends, e-mail responses might be slower. I expect to see proper e-mail etiquette. Please use professional netiquette when you are emailing me

I do not consider Face book an appropriate place to interact with students; therefore I do not accept students’ friend requests there. This is a blanket policy for all and is not an indication of my attitude towards a particular person. However, you can connect with me on LinkedIn.
Resources for Students
Students will find the Writing Center and the Speaking Center very useful for this course; the Tutor Iowa site is also very valuable for students seeking extra help:
Writing Center: http://www.uiowa.edu/~writingc/
Speaking Center: http://clas.uiowa.edu/rhetoric/for-students/speaking-center
Tutor Iowa: http://tutor.uiowa.edu/

Administrative Home
The College of Liberal Arts and Sciences is the administrative home of this course and governs matters such as the add/drop deadlines, the second-grade-only option, and other related issues. Different colleges may have different policies. Questions may be addressed to 120 Schaeffer Hall, or see the CLAS Academic Policies Handbook at http://clas.uiowa.edu/students/handbook.

Electronic Communication
University policy specifies that students are responsible for all official correspondences sent to their University of Iowa e-mail address (@uiowa.edu). Faculty and students should use this account for correspondences (Operations Manual, III.15.2, k.11).

Accommodations for Disabilities
A student seeking academic accommodations should first register with Student Disability Services and then meet privately with the course instructor to make particular arrangements. See www.uiowa.edu/~sds/ for more information.

Academic Honesty
All CLAS students have, in essence, agreed to the College's Code of Academic Honesty: "I pledge to do my own academic work and to excel to the best of my abilities, upholding the IOWA Challenge. I promise not to lie about my academic work, to cheat, or to steal the words or ideas of others; nor will I help fellow students to violate the Code of Academic Honesty." Any student committing academic misconduct is reported to the College and placed on disciplinary probation or may be suspended or expelled (CLAS Academic Policies Handbook).
CLAS Final Examination Policies

The final examination schedule for each class is announced around the fifth week of the semester by the Registrar. Final exams are offered only during the official final examination period. No exams of any kind are allowed during the last week of classes. All students should plan on being at the UI through the final examination period. Once the Registrar has announced the dates and times of each final exam, the complete schedule will be published on the Registrar's web site.

Making a Suggestion or a Complaint

Students with a suggestion or complaint should first visit with the instructor (and the course supervisor), and then with the departmental DEO. Complaints must be made within six months of the incident (CLAS Academic Policies Handbook).

Understanding Sexual Harassment

Sexual harassment subverts the mission of the University and threatens the well-being of students, faculty, and staff. All members of the UI community have a responsibility to uphold this mission and to contribute to a safe environment that enhances learning. Incidents of sexual harassment should be reported immediately. See the UI Comprehensive Guide on Sexual Harassment for assistance, definitions, and the full University policy.

Reacting Safely to Severe Weather

In severe weather, class members should seek appropriate shelter immediately, leaving the classroom if necessary. The class will continue if possible when the event is over. For more information on Hawk Alert and the siren warning system, visit the Department of Public Safety website.

*These CLAS policy and procedural statements have been summarized from the web pages of the College of Liberal Arts and Sciences and The University of Iowa Operations Manual.
