PALESTINE: Beautiful Resistance

Aida refugee camp in Occupied Palestine is, at first glance, a very unhappy place.

Filled with displaced families expelled in 1948, plagued with an unemployment rate of 77% and a poverty rate of over 80%, Aida is almost completely surrounded by Israel’s wall. Children have no fields to play in any more, but only bleak streets and alleys. Forced to spend each day under harsh military rule, the people of Aida live in the kind of desperation that, all over the world, continually feeds the cycle of violence.

In Aida, however, one courageous man is determined to make a difference and forge a path of hope. He is ABDUL FATTAH ABU SROUR, and he is the director of Al Rowwad: Pioneers for Life, a world-renowned theatre and creative arts society.

Al Rowwad’s mission is to use art, theatre, and music as a creative alternative to destructive violence. The organization seeks to educate and empower the Palestinian people, especially women and children who struggle against despair, to fight dehumanizing stereotypes of the Palestinians in the mass media in Europe and America, and to promote long-term social transformation. Established in 1998, its theatre company has toured the world and its educational and medical outreach programs have benefited countless families in the West Bank. Al Rowwad is truly a ray of hope in a deeply troubled place and time.

Please join us for a special presentation by Mr. Abu Srour, introduced by Professor Adrien Wing, UI School of Law

Interested in International and/or Local Policy?

The University of Iowa Public Policy Center invites you to join us for a series of public forums where our researchers will examine different hypothetical scenarios and their unintended consequences, and present their relevant research.

What If...we moved to a sustainable economy/society?
Tuesday, April 15, 7:00-8:30pm, Iowa City Public Library, Meeting Room A
The public is invited to actively engage in this town hall-style debate, in which we will examine current and potential alternatives to the state of the economy, environment and society with regards to the role economics plays in shaping the future. We will examine the impact of our current paradigm on income distribution, environmental impact and consumption and what those consequences can be and if there exist alternative paths.

Women in Politics 2014: Historic & Current Perspectives
Friday, April 18th, 2014 8:15 AM to 5:00 PM, Old Capitol Museum Senate Chambers
Join us for a day-long symposium that will examine why women do or do not run for political office, how they govern once elected, and documentation of the history of women in politics. The symposium will wrap up with a policy discussion and action steps. Click on the tabs below for more information about agenda, speakers, etc. The symposium is free and open to the public, but please register here or at the 'Registration' tab below, as space is limited.

What If...everyone had health insurance?
Tuesday, April 22, 7:00-8:30pm, Iowa City Public Library, Meeting Room A
Come and discuss the effects of full coverage for everyone: where and when people get care, who will provide their care, and the costs to our economy. Enjoy an open conversation about questions like: Will we end up rationing care? Will people be healthier or sicker? Where will the money come from?

What If...everyone voted?
Tuesday, April 29, 7:00-8:30pm, Iowa City Public Library, Meeting Room A
Full voter turnout would have myriad consequences for our electoral system, political campaigns, and representation by government officials. Experts will provide thought-provoking reflections on this scenario in order to spur further discussion.

Global Studies Foundation Grant for Student Travel and Study Abroad

Designed to support foreign language training and other academic studies abroad, this $1000 grant provides supplemental funds for American students who already are studying abroad under the auspices of an official study abroad program conducted by an accredited academic institution. As with our faculty grants, GSF seeks to support a formative experience abroad for the recipient, who also must share this experience with others upon his or her return – ideally, with multiple audiences and varied media. We are particularly interested in funding the study of strategically important countries and languages (as defined by the US Departments of State and Defense).

Applicant Description:
Applicants must be US citizens and currently enrolled full-time and in good academic standing in an accredited secondary or postsecondary institution. Among the most significant selection criteria are academic performance (as indicated in courses, grades, recommendations, and other achievements), program merit, and outreach potential. Grant recipients will be expected to acknowledge GSF's support, to report on their experiences, and to work with GSF to share those experiences as widely as possible.

Grant Cycle:
GSF's annual grants cycle involves a spring call for proposals, a summer application deadline of July 1 for all grants, and a fall review of proposals, with awards typically announced and distributed before the end of the year.

For more information about these grants and GSF policies and procedures concerning them, please explore this link: http://www.globalstudiesfoundation.org/ShowContents.cfm?CategoryID=43

To Apply: Please complete our online information form and submit the following materials electronically (either as PDF files or Word documents) to grants@globalstudiesfoundation.org:

- A letter of application of no more than two pages that specifies your reasons for traveling, your intended program and schedule, how this particular grant can help you, and how you plan to share your experience with others upon your return;
- A copy of your resume or curriculum vitae;
- A transcript from the schools you have attended, including all post-secondary institutions (unofficial transcripts will suffice for the first round);
- Two letters of recommendation addressing your capacity to make the most of this experience while overseas and when you return, at least one of which must be from a recent academic instructor;
- An official endorsement from your study abroad program or another institutional authority, indicating your travel and study plans, the anticipated dates, and the institution's capacity and willingness to receive and process a grant for this purpose from GSF, which is a 501(c)(3), tax-exempt organization (as grant distributions will be made to the school for subsequent redistribution to the recipient).

Application Deadline: July 1, 2014
Asian Pacific American Heritage Month is celebrated nationally during the month of May to commemorate the first immigrants who came from Japan on May 7, 1843. This month is celebrated in April at the University of Iowa and pays tribute to the contributions generations of Asian and Pacific Islanders have made to American history, society, and culture.

Coming Up from Iowa UNA

Abu Srour of Alrowwad Culture and Theatre Society

When: April 15, 7:00pm
Where: CSPS Hall, 1103 3rd St SE, Cedar Rapids

Abu Srour is the director of the Alrowwad Culture and Theatre Society (ACTS) in Aida refugee camp in Bethlehem. ACTS was founded in 1988 as a non-profit, non-political community center with an emphasis on using theater and other arts as media for self-expression and alternatives to violence. Today ACTS offers opportunities in dance, theater, and photography/videography, as well as a women's center, after school services, and a mobile playground program that brings outdoor game activities to communities around the West Bank. For more about Alrowwad, please visit www.alrowwad.org. This program is hosted by the UI Center of Human Rights and is co-sponsored by the Linn County United Nations Association.

Girl Up: Open Mic Night

When: April 17, 6:30pm-8:30pm
Where: Iowa City Public Library, 123 S. Linn Street, IC

In a service-learning partnership with students in the University of Iowa Gender Studies, Iowa UNA and community partners will host an open mic event in support of the UN Foundation's Girl Up campaign. We believe all girls around the globe have a right to education, to not be forced into early childhood marriage (in some instances before the age of 10), and to pursue reform through governmental platforms for change. We invite the community to join us and/or participate. Please email yashar@unaiowa.org if you would like to perform.

Yashar Vasef: The United Nations and Palestine

When: April 21, 7:00pm-8:30pm
Where: Lower level meeting room, First Presbyterian, 902 Main Street, Cedar Falls

Behind the headlines, the politics, and the conflict are the Palestinian people. Iowa UNA executive director Yashar Vasef will discuss the work of the United Nations in supporting the Palestinian people both inside and outside Palestine.

The UN Relief and Works Agency for Palestine Refugees (UNRWA) provides education, health care, relief and social services, camp infrastructure and improvement, and microfinance to 5 million Palestinians refugees scattered in the West Bank, Gaza, Jordan, Lebanon, and Syria. This is a program of the Cedar Valley United Nations Association.
Dr. Hannah Marsh - Race and Biology: Why Do People Look So Different and What Does It All Mean?

When: April 21, 7:00pm
Where: Flaherty Auditorium inside Basile Hall, Mt. Mercy Campus, Praire Drive NE, Cedar Rapids

Dr. Hannah Marsh: "In America, 'race' is used unfairly to judge the value of people, and because of this, we shy away from discussing race to avoid these racist ideas. However, the opposite occurs, where the unspoken condemnation seems to reinforce the dirty details of these physical differences that people use to code 'race' in America. By openly talking about the biology of our differences, we erase the taboo and judgement by encouraging people to see other as diverse keys that unlock the mysteries of our species' past. By looking at variation in body shape, nose size, and skin color, we see that human differences tell a story of travel and survival from every corner of the world. Our physical differences do not tell us about an individual's worth, but about the mutual past that we have all shared. Let's talk about our differences to see that we are all really the same." This is a program of the Linn County United Nations Association, Mt Mercy University and Coe College.

New for Fall 2014: Global@Iowa

Global@Iowa is a one credit hour course, which provides students with unique experience in peer mentoring and leadership development. Students enroll in Global@Iowa as Peer Mentors for new international students. This course comprises two distinct phases: the first five training-preparation sessions with the instructor and other Global@Iowa students, and the second phase leading small group sessions with international students.

Ambassador Ron McMullen, a Visiting Associate Professor in Political Science, will be the course instructor. Ambassador McMullen served as U.S. Ambassador to the State of Eritrea, has over 30 years of diplomatic experience, and has lived, worked, or traveled in 91 countries. In Burma he worked closely with Nobel Peace laureate Aung San Suu Kyi and pro-democracy groups. While posted in Fiji he helped prevent civil conflict after an armed takeover of parliament. He was shot at during a riot in Sri Lanka and helped train mongooses to detect heroin. He survived a voodoo curse in the Dominican Republic and took Hillary Clinton on a tour of South Africa’s Robben Island with Nelson Mandela.

We are looking for 90 bright, internationally minded undergraduate students who are interested in gaining cross-cultural leadership experience, building international relationships, and promoting cultural adjustment for new international students. Please take a minute to visit our website for more information about Global@Iowa, and complete an online application.

Please visit our website http://international.uiowa.edu/global-at-iowa to find out more information about the course.

Applications will be accepted until all seats are filled. Contact Shuhui-Lin@uiowa.edu for more information and application materials.

Questions:
Please contact Lauren Katalinich at (319) 384-2221 or at lauren-katalinich@uiowa.edu, or Shuhui Lin at (319) 353-2233 or at shuhui-lin@uiowa.edu.
The context for our everyday experience has increasingly become globally determined. This course will introduce various phenomena and perspectives regarding globalization, including the transnational migration of people, the spread of American culture, the growth of international corporations and trade, and the rise of international conflict and transnational activism.

Fall 2014 SERVICE LEARNING COURSE

CDS:3187 (003:187) Literacy Instruction for Young Children

3 sh of elective credit (i.e., this course is __not__ approved for the ISBA)

This is a service-learning course in collaboration with the preschool program at Roundy Elementary School in Columbus Junction, Iowa. Students enrolled in this course will engage in print-focused storybook reading groups with preschool-aged children, participate in classroom and community activities, and write reflective papers (three). The school district is culturally diverse, with 64% of the children 2nd generation Hispanic (primarily Mexican-American). The _majority of these children are not native speakers of English_, and Spanish is the exclusive language spoken at home. Further, the community has recently become home to families from Myanmar, and the children from these families speak Burmese as their first language. International Studies students in the past have not been required to complete the co-requisite (which is listed on ISIS). Contact the instructor directly with questions: tricia-zebrowski@uiowa.edu.

Are you interested in volunteering abroad for one week, one month, or multiple months during the upcoming year? We very much hope to have an opportunity to work with you in Ghana, Honduras, or India! Unite For Sight’s volunteer abroad program is available year-round, and it's not too late to participate this spring or summer!

Unite For Sight’s Volunteer Abroad Program is an immersive global health experience for students and professionals who are interested in public health, international development, medicine, or social entrepreneurship. Volunteers participate with and learn from Unite For Sight's talented local partner doctors who have provided care to more than 1.8 million patients living in poverty, including more than 80,000 sight-restoring surgeries. The local doctors are social entrepreneurs who are addressing complex public health issues, and volunteers gain a comprehensive understanding about the complexities and realities of global health.

Unite For Sight is the only organization in the world that:

- is a healthcare delivery organization that also offers immersive global health education opportunities for students and professionals;
- uses 100% of all donations and funds submitted to directly provide care for patients who are otherwise unable to access or afford care;
- directly teaches the importance of supporting and assisting local professionals in their own social ventures to eliminate disparities in their communities and countries;
- offers an opportunity to learn from local medical professionals about effective strategies to reach the hardest-to-reach patients in villages, slums, and refugee camps;
- develops comprehensive training materials in cultural competency, ethics, and global health best practices to prepare its volunteers for a high-impact immersive experience.

Complete details and the online enrollment instructions can be found at http://www.uniteforsight.org/volunteer-abroad. We look forward to the opportunity to work with you during the upcoming months!

Summer Volunteering Opportunities with No More Deaths

No More Deaths would like to announce our 2014 summer volunteer program! Full program information is now posted and we are taking applications online.

The dates for the 2014 summer program are June 6–October 24. The application deadline for the first session is April 25. There are opportunities for volunteer stays of one week or two, as well as longer term commitments of a month or more. Groups and individuals participating in this program will be providing direct aid in the US–Mexico borderlands, where people migrating continue to unnecessarily suffer and die in staggering numbers. We will mobilize as humanitarian-aid and human-rights workers in the Arizona desert to challenge lethal and cruel policies that systematically place migrants on the receiving end of violence.

The full program information and the online application are now posted.

As always, we are excited for this program and hope to see many of you this summer! If you have any questions or concerns please contact the volunteer coordinator by email, volunteer@nomoredeaths.org, or phone, 520-307-7379.

- Be decisive, honest, and responsive.
- A persistent and creative work style, and a willingness to be accountable.
- A high level of integrity and professionalism.
- Be proactive and willing to take direction.
- Be intellectually curious and mature.
The World Food Prize Foundation Internship Program is an unparalleled professional opportunity for students interested in global issues of hunger, poverty and development.

Under the supervision of Ambassador Kenneth Quinn and The World Food Prize staff, interns become an integral part of this internationally renowned organization and interact with government officials, international experts in agriculture and the environment, Nobel and World Food Prize Laureates, leaders in industry and business, and members of local and national media. Through this experience, Carver Interns learn first-hand both the public and private side of operating an international non-profit organization and increase their understanding of the international fight against hunger, malnutrition, and poverty.

Each academic semester and summer, a select group of highly qualified undergraduate and graduate students is chosen for this unique program, which provides interns with the opportunity to take significant responsibility and initiative in planning and carrying out a wide range of the Foundation’s projects, including:

- Youth education program/curriculum development
- Issue-based research, writing and editing
- Event/conference planning and logistics
- Non-profit development and strategic planning
- Graphic design
- Communications, public relations and social media

This is a paid internship as part of the Des Moines Center Internship Program, also awarding 12 academic credit hours for successful completion. The World Food Prize also offers summer internship positions separate from the Des Moines Center.

QUALIFICATIONS
Interns come from a variety of academic disciplines, including the sciences, agriculture, business, education, political science, communications and journalism. Internship roles will be specialized according to an individual’s background, skills, and area of interest; and each intern will work one-on-one with a staff mentor.

The Center for Democracy in the Americas (CDA) seeks a qualified undergraduate student or recent college graduate, with driving interests in political activism and U.S.-Cuba relations, to serve as our Stephen M. Rivers intern and play a supporting but multidimensional role in our efforts to make decisive changes in U.S. policy toward Cuba.

Organizational Review:
The Center for Democracy in the Americas (CDA) is an independent, non-governmental organization based in Washington, D.C. We organize fact-finding missions to the region, conduct trailblazing research, publish often-quoted and highly-regarded reports, and host policy events. We then communicate what we learn and believe to elite audiences in the U.S. and Latin America – and to the public at-large – via the news media, our website and blog, and three e-newsletters that focus on Cuba, El Salvador, and Venezuela. CDA is an established leader in the Washington policy community as an advocate for changing our nation's Cuba policy.

CDA's Stephen M. Rivers Internship:
The Center for Democracy in the Americas created an internship to honor the memory of Stephen Rivers, a remarkable friend, a renowned publicist for Hollywood celebrities, a political activist, and someone who devoted much of his professional life to building cultural bridges between the U.S. and Cuba. The Stephen M. Rivers Intern will spend ten months working side-by-side with CDA staff on projects and ideas that advance our goal of forging a new policy toward Cuba and the region. Candidates should speak Spanish and have outstanding analytic and writing skills.

The internship focuses on these key areas:
- Assisting CDA staff with research and policy analysis
- Informing policy makers about what is happening in Cuba and how US policy should change
- Organizing and possibly participating in travel to Cuba with U.S. policy makers
- Helping to research and write our weekly Cuba Central News Blast

For more information, visit http://www.democracyinamericas.org/about-cda/the-stephen-m-rivers-memorial-internship/

Benefits: CDA will pay a stipend of $2,000 per month.

Timeline: The next Stephen M. Rivers Internship will begin in September 2014 and end in June 2015.

To Apply: Please submit the following application materials to riversinternship@democracyinamericas.org:
- Cover letter
- Resume including references
- Transcript(s) (may be unofficial)
- Brief writing sample (3-5 pages), content should be relevant

Application Deadline: April 15, 2014
