ICFRC Lecture Luncheon – Wednesday, April 2, 12:00-1:15pm

Nick Grossman, Adjunct Lecturer, UI Political Science

“The Future of Drones and Unmanned Systems”

In the last few decades, semi-autonomous killer machines have migrated from science fiction to a central role in real-world international relations. The United States utilizes unmanned aerial systems, commonly known as "drones," to strike targets both in and outside of military contexts. Though the US is at the forefront of unmanned technology, all advanced militaries use robots to perform a variety of tasks. From surveillance to ordinance disposal, drones are used in the air, water, and on land. With the US and other militaries' increasing reliance on unmanned systems, the FAA endorsing commercial drones in 2015, and Google developing a self-driving car, the prevalence of robots is increasing exponentially. As Grossman points out, technology often develops faster than humans' understanding of it.

Nicholas Grossman is a lecturer in the political science department of the University of Iowa, where he teaches classes on terrorism and insurgency, national security policy, and 21st century technology and warfare. He received a PhD in International Relations from the University of Maryland with a dissertation titled "Robotics and the Future of Asymmetric Warfare." Before coming to Iowa, he presented on preemptive warfare at the Pentagon's Office of Net Assessment, and on terrorism to the Applied Physics Laboratory. As a technology enthusiast, Grossman finds developments in robotics to be both exciting and highly concerning.

Congressional Call-In to Support U.S. Funding for Global Vaccines

When: April 2, 6:00pm
Where: Iowa UNA office, 20 E. Market Street (Old Brick), Iowa City

On behalf of the UN Foundation's Shot At Life campaign, the Iowa United Nations Association is hosting a pizza party and congressional call-in to support global vaccines that help eliminate preventable childhood diseases like polio and measles. We will leave messages for the offices of our congressional delegation asking representatives to support the fiscal year 2015 budget with the highest allocated funding for global immunizations. Anyone is welcome to join, and UNA staff will provide brief training before we proceed. This program is part of the Advocate to Vaccinate campaign with Iowa UNA representing the Midwest region.

Devotay Restaurant Fundraiser

When: April 6, 4pm-9pm
Where: Devotay Restaurant, 117 N. Linn Street, Iowa City

Dine at Devotay on April 6 and a portion of the proceeds will benefit Iowa UNA! Devotay features traditional (and not-so-traditional) Tapas, Pintxos, Paellas, and Special Entrees from the myriad cuisines of the Iberian peninsula, as well as other influences from all over the world. Enjoy a quick bite or share a big variety - there is no more convivial way to dine. Please be sure to mention Iowa UNA when you RSVP or are seated.

Your Voice. Our Future.

When: April 9, 7:00pm
Where: Clinton Street Social Club, 18 1/2 S. Clinton Street, Iowa City

April marks Sexual Assault Awareness Month (SAAM), so the Iowa United Nations Association and Monsoon United Asian Women of Iowa are hosting an open mic night to raise awareness about sexual assault that occurs to women and men with performances that speak to the topic. Please join us on April 9 at 7 pm at Clinton Street Social Club to support this cause! The performances will end at 9 pm. A discussion will follow on what we can do to prevent sexual assault. If you would like to perform or have any questions, please email cora@unaiowa.org.

Fulbright Lunch and Learn Seminar Series

Friday, April 11, 12:30-1:20 p.m. 1117 UCC (bring your lunch)

Letters from Catalunya

Phillip Round, Professor of English

While teaching American ethnic literatures in Barcelona as a Fulbright scholar, Professor Round expected it to be the perfect place for discussions of American literature and culture. After all, Barcelona was the first place Columbus reported on his expedition to the King and Queen of Spain. What Round discovered, however, was that there are many Spains, and the Catalan nationalist outpouring that was reaching a fever pitch when he arrived created a unique opportunity to explore issues related to bilingualism and American Indian language revitalization--but led to some dangers as well. The title of his talk alludes to George Orwell's "Homage to Catalonia," and like Orwell's narrative of the Spanish Civil War, "Letters from Catalunya" will explore a few harrowing moments in his Fulbright year that underscore the surprisingly fiery/fervent nature of cross-cultural teaching.
Interested in International and/or Local Policy?

The University of Iowa Public Policy Center invites you to join us for a series of public forums where our researchers will examine different hypothetical scenarios and their unintended consequences, and present their relevant research.

What If...gas were $10/gallon in two to five years?
Tuesday, April 8, 7:00-8:30pm, Iowa City Public Library, Meeting Room A
This first in this series of four forums examines the unintended consequences of gasoline rising to $10 a gallon in the next two to five years. The public is invited to participate in this guided discussion about the effects on individual travel, consumer choices, and automation of vehicles.

What If...we moved to a sustainable economy/society?
Tuesday, April 15, 7:00-8:30pm, Iowa City Public Library, Meeting Room A
The public is invited to actively engage in this town hall-style debate, in which we will examine current and potential alternatives to the state of the economy, environment and society with regards to the role economics plays in shaping the future. We will examine the impact of our current paradigm on income distribution, environmental impact and consumption and what those consequences can be and if there exist alternative paths.

Women in Politics 2014: Historic & Current Perspectives
Friday, April 18th, 2014 8:15 AM to 5:00 PM, Old Capitol Museum Senate Chambers
Join us for a day-long symposium that will examine why women do or do not run for political office, how they govern once elected, and documentation of the history of women in politics. The symposium will wrap up with a policy discussion and action steps. Click on the tabs below for more information about agenda, speakers, etc. The symposium is free and open to the public, but please register here or at the 'Registration' tab below, as space is limited.

What If...everyone had health insurance?
Tuesday, April 22, 7:00-8:30pm, Iowa City Public Library, Meeting Room A
Come and discuss the effects of full coverage for everyone: where and when people get care, who will provide their care, and the costs to our economy. Enjoy an open conversation about questions like: Will we end up rationing care? Will people be healthier or sicker? Where will the money come from?

What If...everyone voted?
Tuesday, April 29, 7:00-8:30pm, Iowa City Public Library, Meeting Room A
Full voter turnout would have myriad consequences for our electoral system, political campaigns, and representation by government officials. Experts will provide thought-provoking reflections on this scenario in order to spur further discussion.

Lecture: How Will Americans Remember Iraq?

Friday, April 11, 2014 - 3:00pm to 5:00pm
40 Schaeffer Hall
The UICHR cordially invites you to a talk by Ida Beam Distinguished Visiting Professor, Dr. John Hagan, of Northwestern University and the American Bar Foundation.

The title of Dr. Hagan’s lecture is: “How Will Americans Remember Iraq?” and will take place on Friday, April 11, 2014 from 3-5pm in 40 Schaeffer Hall.

Dr. Hagan is the John D. MacArthur Professor of Sociology and Law at Northwestern University and Co-Director of the Center on Law & Globalization at the American Bar Foundation in Chicago. Click here for additional information on his talk and on Dr. Hagan.

New for Fall 2014: Global@Iowa

Global@Iowa is a one credit hour course, which provides students with unique experience in peer mentoring and leadership development. Students enroll in Global@Iowa as Peer Mentors for new international students. This course comprises two distinct phases: the first five training-preparation sessions with the instructor and other Global@Iowa students, and the second phase leading small group sessions with international students.

Ambassador Ron McMullen, a Visiting Associate Professor in Political Science, will be the course instructor. Ambassador McMullen served as U.S. Ambassador to the State of Eritrea, has over 30 years of diplomatic experience, and has lived, worked, or traveled in 91 countries. In Burma he worked closely with Nobel Peace laureate Aung San Suu Kyi and pro-democracy groups. While posted in Fiji he helped prevent civil conflict after an armed takeover of parliament. He was shot at during a riot in Sri Lanka and helped train mongooses to detect heroin. He survived a voodoo curse in the Dominican Republic and took Hillary Clinton on a tour of South Africa’s Robben Island with Nelson Mandela.

We are looking for 90 bright, internationally minded undergraduate students who are interested in gaining cross-cultural leadership experience, building international relationships, and promoting cultural adjustment for new international students. Please take a minute to visit our website for more information about Global@Iowa, and complete an online application.

Please visit our website http://international.uiowa.edu/global-at-iowa to find out more information about the course.

Applications will be accepted until all seats are filled. Contact Shuhui-lin@uiowa.edu for more information and application materials.

Questions:
Please contact Lauren Katalinich at (319) 384-2221 or at lauren-katalinich@uiowa.edu, or Shuhui Lin at (319) 353-2233 or at shuhui-lin@uiowa.edu.

Honors Writing Fellows Program
application deadline extended!

Are you an Honors student who enjoys writing & helping others with their writing? Would you like to become a peer writing tutor & get paid for such an experience while learning more about the writing process? Apply to be a Writing Fellow!

Writing Fellows take an intensive Honors course in tutoring across the curriculum (Writing Theory and Practice 143:102/HONR:3220, 3 s.h.) in the fall while they work with a professor and 8 to 14 students in that professor’s course. Fellows comment on drafts of papers and meet individually with those students to discuss their comments and suggestions for revisions. They receive an honorarium of $700 their first semester and $800 for the following semesters in which they “fellow.”

To apply, you need to be a sophomore or first-semester junior (exceptional first-year students will also be considered), an Honors Program member in good standing, and available to take Honors Writing Theory and Practice (143:102/HONR:3220) on Mondays in Fall 2014 from 3:30 to 6:15 p.m. More information and application materials are available at:

http://honors.uiowa.edu/academicsexperience-based-learning/writing-fellows

Complete applications are due Friday, April 4 at 5:00 p.m. to Mary Trachsel. Applications can be delivered to Dr. Trachsel’s mailbox in the Rhetoric office, 167 EPB, or to her office in 154 EPB via the mail slot in the door.

Volunteer Abroad with Unite for Sight

Are you interested in volunteering abroad for one week, one month, or multiple months during the upcoming year? We very much hope to have an opportunity to work with you in Ghana, Honduras, or India! Unite For Sight’s volunteer abroad program is available year-round, and it's not too late to participate this spring or summer!

Unite For Sight’s Volunteer Abroad Program is an immersive global health experience for students and professionals who are interested in public health, international development, medicine, or social entrepreneurship. Volunteers participate with and learn from Unite For Sight's talented local partner doctors who have provided care to more than 1.8 million patients living in poverty, including more than 80,000 sight-restoring surgeries. The local doctors are social entrepreneurs who are addressing complex public health issues, and volunteers gain a comprehensive understanding about the complexities and realities of global health.

Unite For Sight is the only organization in the world that:

- is a healthcare delivery organization that also offers immersive global health education opportunities for students and professionals;
- uses 100% of all donations and funds submitted to directly provide care for patients who are otherwise unable to access or afford care;
- directly teaches the importance of supporting and assisting local professionals in their own social ventures to eliminate disparities in their communities and countries;
- offers an opportunity to learn from local medical professionals about effective strategies to reach the hardest-to-reach patients in villages, slums, and refugee camps;
- develops comprehensive training materials in cultural competency, ethics, and global health best practices to prepare its volunteers for a high-impact immersive experience.

Complete details and the online enrollment instructions can be found at http://www.uniteforsight.org/volunteer-abroad. We look forward to the opportunity to work with you during the upcoming months!
Summer Internship @ Center for International Policy Research

Summer 2014 International Program Intern

Job Description: The Center for Economic and Policy Research is currently looking for a full-time International Program Intern for Summer 2014 (June 1st-August 31st).

Responsibilities include assisting staff with research on upcoming papers and opinion pieces; organizing events with Latin American delegations, CEPR staff, and visiting academics; assisting in tracking and logging press mentions; as well as working on outreach to press, advocacy organizations, and Congress.

The responsibilities vary based on their interests and experience, as well as the particular issues that CEPR is working on at the time. Interns will be able to attend relevant events around Washington, DC.

Qualifications: We are looking for applicants with a general understanding of economics, international relations, and democracy issues, and an interest in economic justice. Previous research, data and/or outreach experience is extremely helpful; interns with strong economics or foreign policy experience (including Master’s degrees) will have the opportunity to engage in serious research, and those with strong organizing or outreach experience will have event management opportunities. The intern will need to be fluent in Spanish, including the ability to perform accurate written translations; able to work in a fast-paced environment (continued) with limited management; and be a self-starter and independent learner. Should have excellent writing and communications skills.

Stipend: $1,588.41 per month, plus up to $250 for health insurance reimbursement per month.

Closing Date of Position: April 4, 2014.

To Apply: Send cover letter, resume, and a brief (2 page) answer to the question “How can the US improve its foreign policy toward Latin America?” via email to internationalintern[at]cepr.net. No calls or faxes please.

Organization Description: The Center for Economic and Policy Research (CEPR) was established in 1999 to promote democratic debate on the most important economic and social issues that affect people's lives. It is an independent nonpartisan think tank based in Washington, DC. CEPR is committed to presenting issues in an accurate and understandable manner, so that the public is better prepared to choose among the various policy options.

CEPR is an ideal place to learn about current economic and global justice issues in a friendly, relaxed and fun environment. Work schedules are flexible.

Volunteer at the National Czech and Slovak Museum and Library

We are a museum that celebrates life. Czech life. Slovak life. American life. We are a museum that encourages self-discovery, a museum that asks what it means to be free. Through extraordinary exhibitions and experiences, we tell stories of freedom and identity, family and community, human rights and dignity. Our stories connect yesterday with today and tomorrow.

There are many opportunities to volunteer at the museum. Learn more at http://www.ncsml.org/Content/Get-Involved/Volunteer.aspx, or contact JCampbell@NCSML.org or (319) 362-8500.
This year’s application is now open! The deadline for submissions is 5:00 pm on March 14, 2014.

The Kenneth J. Cmiel Funded Human Rights Internship Program provides funding to selected students who have secured a summer internship with a local, national or international non-governmental organization or governmental agency engaged in human rights related advocacy, research, or education.

The program provides funding for transportation and living expenses associated with the internship.

The University of Iowa’s Center for Human Rights sponsors the award to assist current undergraduate and graduate students in overcoming the costs that are often left uncovered in internships domestic and abroad.

The Center for Democracy in the Americas (CDA) seeks a qualified undergraduate student or recent college graduate, with driving interests in political activism and U.S.-Cuba relations, to serve as our Stephen M. Rivers intern and play a supporting but multidimensional role in our efforts to make decisive changes in U.S. policy toward Cuba.

Organizational Review:
The Center for Democracy in the Americas (CDA) is an independent, non-governmental organization based in Washington, D.C. We organize fact-finding missions to the region, conduct trailblazing research, publish often-quoted and highly-regarded reports, and host policy events. We then communicate what we learn and believe to elite audiences in the U.S. and Latin America – and to the public at-large – via the news media, our website and blog, and three e-newsletters that focus on Cuba, El Salvador, and Venezuela. CDA is an established leader in the Washington policy community as an advocate for changing our nation's Cuba policy.

CDA's Stephen M. Rivers Internship:
The Center for Democracy in the Americas created an internship to honor the memory of Stephen Rivers, a remarkable friend, a renowned publicist for Hollywood celebrities, a political activist, and someone who devoted much of his professional life to building cultural bridges between the U.S. and Cuba. The Stephen M. Rivers Intern will spend ten months working side-by-side with CDA staff on projects and ideas that advance our goal of forging a new policy toward Cuba and the region. Candidates should speak Spanish and have outstanding analytic and writing skills.

The internship focuses on these key areas:
- Assisting CDA staff with research and policy analysis
- Informing policy makers about what is happening in Cuba and how US policy should change
- Organizing and possibly participating in travel to Cuba with U.S. policy makers
- Helping to research and write our weekly Cuba Central News Blast

For more information, visit http://www.democracyinamericas.org/about-cda/the-stephen-m-rivers-memorial-internship/

Benefits: CDA will pay a stipend of $2,000 per month.

Timeline: The next Stephen M. Rivers Internship will begin in September 2014 and end in June 2015.

To Apply: Please submit the following application materials to riversinternship@democracyinamericas.org:
- Cover letter
- Resume including references
- Transcript(s) (may be unofficial)
- Brief writing sample (3-5 pages), content should be relevant

Application Deadline: April 15, 2014

Research Associate Intern DHR International

SCOPE AND RESPONSIBILITIES:

As a key member of DHR International’s research team, the Research Associate Intern will be responsible for supporting both DHR Associates and DHR Consultants.

The scope of work for the Research Associate Intern is to assist all Practice Groups and the research teams in the development of the assignment search strategy and candidate identification. He/She will complete projects in a timely manner using FileFinder, DHR’s proprietary database to solve problems, find information and use as a tool in name generation. The Intern will use creativity and all available resources to successfully complete each project. Furthermore, a Research Associate Intern will be charged with providing research and strategic information services in support of the firm’s highly respected practice groups. The intern will perform in-depth research and analysis of companies and trends in the various industries. They will monitor the news with an eye for relevant talent, business and news information, keeping the practice group up-to-date with this information. The intern will maintain critical compiled lists of key executives, updating contact information as it changes. They will also monitor job movements, alerting the practice groups to potential business opportunities. Each week, the intern will develop a newsletter highlighting news, trends, management movement and other important information relative to the specific industries. The intern will compile all of their findings from the summer and present them in a final report and presentation during the last week of the summer as a final project.

EXPERIENCE REQUIRED:

DHR International seeks an individual with a high energy level, a creative thought process and solid business skills who will thrive in this fast paced, ever-changing work environment. The Successful Candidate Will Have:

• Outstanding database and Internet research skills and a broad knowledge of business information sources.
• Experience working in a professional business environment.
• Currently attending a College or University.
• Strong organizational, analytical, and detailed planning and project management skills.
• The ability to multitask and prioritize activities in a demanding environment.
• Effective written and oral communications skills.
• Strong listening skills and an ability to interpret information.
• The ability to develop strong relationships to build personal networks.
• Experience working in a team environment, with the ability to partner with colleagues while also working independently.
• An optimistic, solution-oriented style, with a great sense of humor.
• A service attitude coupled with a sense of urgency and tenacity.
• Strong attention to detail.
• Strong assessment skills.
• A passion for executive search.
• Be decisive, honest, and responsive.
• A persistent and creative work style, and a willingness to be accountable.
• A high level of integrity and professionalism.
• Be proactive and willing to take direction.
• Be intellectually curious and mature.
INTERNSHIPS AVAILABLE FOR SPRING AND SUMMER SESSIONS 2014

The Council for International Visitors to Iowa Cities (CIVIC) is now accepting applications for internship positions for the spring and summer sessions. Based out of the International Programs’ offices in the Old Capitol Mall, CIVIC works to promote the ideals of citizen diplomacy. Its major activities involve receiving international emerging leaders to eastern Iowa, organizing local meetings with relevant individuals, institutions and companies, and arranging activities to interact socially, culturally, and professionally with eastern Iowans, including home visits and in some cases, home-stays.

CIVIC is looking for engaged and ambitious students to facilitate our growth and development for the spring and summer of 2014. Four uniquely-oriented internship positions are available with CIVIC, listed below:

1. An International Visitor Programming intern is needed to work with the Executive Director and the Program Coordinator to correspond with program and government agencies in Washington D.C., to write formal proposals to qualify for visitor projects, to manage and organize project itineraries, to escort visitors along their projects, and to assist in volunteer coordination.
2. A Graphic Design and Media intern will assist us with the development of new logos, a new website, social media campaigns, flyers, brochures, and related materials that will affect how our organization presents itself to our communities.
3. A Community Outreach intern is needed to help staff organize Meet and Greet participatory dinners, to cultivate CIVIC’s relationship with student and academic organizations, and will also assist the Executive Director to develop creative projects that engage community members in citizen diplomacy efforts.
4. A Membership and Corporate Fundraising intern is needed to assist the Executive Director in managing CIVIC’s membership database, reaching out to local businesses, and in writing grants to raise the required funds for CIVIC’s expansion and development.

Internships will be for 5-10 hours/week during the academic semester with marginal weekend and evening hours required. Interested parties should email their resume and a short statement of purpose to civic@uiowa.edu. Feel free to email any questions or contact us by phone at 319-335-0351.

Summer Volunteering Opportunities with No More Deaths

No More Deaths would like to announce our 2014 summer volunteer program! Full program information is now posted and we are taking applications online.

The dates for the 2014 summer program are June 6–October 24. The application deadline for the first session is April 25. There are opportunities for volunteer stays of one week or two, as well as longer term commitments of a month or more. Groups and individuals participating in this program will be providing direct aid in the US–Mexico borderlands, where people migrating continue to unnecessarily suffer and die in staggering numbers. We will mobilize as humanitarian-aid and human-rights workers in the Arizona desert to challenge lethal and cruel policies that systematically place migrants on the receiving end of violence.

The full program information and the online application are now posted.

As always, we are excited for this program and hope to see many of you this summer! If you have any questions or concerns please contact the volunteer coordinator by email, volunteer@nomoredeaths.org, or phone, 520-307-7379.

Summer 2014 Paid Internship at The World Food Prize Foundation in Des Moines

Apply on HireAHawk.com

The World Food Prize Foundation Internship Program is an unparalleled professional opportunity for students interested in global issues of hunger, poverty and development.

Under the supervision of Ambassador Kenneth Quinn and The World Food Prize staff, interns become an integral part of this internationally renowned organization and interact with government officials, international experts in agriculture and the environment, Nobel and World Food Prize Laureates, leaders in industry and business, and members of local and national media. Through this experience, Carver Interns learn first-hand both the public and private side of operating an international non-profit organization and increase their understanding of the international fight against hunger, malnutrition, and poverty.

Each academic semester and summer, a select group of highly qualified undergraduate and graduate students is chosen for this unique program, which provides interns with the opportunity to take significant responsibility and initiative in planning and carrying out a wide range of the Foundation’s projects, including:

- Youth education program/curriculum development
- Issue-based research, writing and editing
- Event/conference planning and logistics
- Non-profit development and strategic planning
- Graphic design
- Communications, public relations and social media

This is a paid internship as part of the Des Moines Center Internship Program, also awarding 12 academic credit hours for successful completion. The World Food Prize also offers summer internship positions separate from the Des Moines Center.

QUALIFICATIONS
Interns come from a variety of academic disciplines, including the sciences, agriculture, business, education, political science, communications and journalism. Internship roles will be specialized according to an individual’s background, skills, and area of interest; and each intern will work one-on-one with a staff mentor.

Volunteer with Access 2 Independence

Access 2 Independence is a non-profit that has been working for over 30 years to increase the self-determination and integration of people with disabilities throughout the Eastern Iowa Corridor. Learn more at http://access2independence.org. Many volunteer positions are available; if you are interested in any of these positions, please email Emily at volunteer@access2independence.org.

Peer Counselor: Peer counselors are individuals with disabilities who live independently, who are integrated into their community, and who have a desire to help others do the same. Peer mentors work with anyone who is adapting to a disability or seeking to increase their independence; peer counseling provides consumers with the opportunity to develop coping and advocacy skills, and provides empathy, friendship, and a morale boost.

After a training period, peer counseling can be performed both in and outside of the office, depending on the need of the consumer.

Peer Counselor Coordinator: We are looking for an energetic and dynamic volunteer to help coordinate and expand our Peer Counseling Program. This volunteer would be responsible for training peer counselors, screening applicants, making successful matches between individuals, and following up with matches to ensure long-term success. Experience with computers (Microsoft Office specifically) is a major plus. Will work predominantly at the office of Access 2 Independence, but some work from home can be arranged. A long-term commitment of at least 6 months at a time is required.

Marketing and Outreach: Since we are a small nonprofit organization, we are always looking for help with our marketing and outreach. Whether it is redesigning our brochure, passing out and posting fliers, or even creating a new logo for our organization, there is always something new and exciting for marketing volunteers to accomplish. These volunteer positions are largely on a by-project basis, so terms of service can vary from one day to many months at a time.

Social Media: Responsibilities include managing the Access 2 Independence Facebook and Twitter accounts, as well as occasional work with YouTube and other social media sites. If interested, this volunteer will also be in charge of photographing special events, group meetings, and other activities for our marketing and outreach team. After a brief supervised training period, this position can be completed from home, with regular in-office meetings with the Volunteer Coordinator.

Operations: Duties include filing consumer records, organizing the office, answering phones, and general office tasks. This position can also include helping consumers utilize the computer labs and other resources on an as needed basis, depending on the volunteer’s particular skills and their comfort level. Volunteer openings available range from one-day opportunities to longer-term options.

Fundraising: We are always in need of dedicated volunteers to help with the following tasks: plan and run fundraising campaigns; research, database management, and data entry; develop donor materials, presentations, and direct/indirect mailings. These volunteer opportunities will be mostly long term (at least 6 months), but shorter terms can be discussed on an as-needed basis.

Event Planning: This volunteer helps to plan and execute the annual ADA Celebration, as well as fundraising and outreach events. Volunteers get extensive hands-on experience with large-scale event planning, and because of this a longer-term commitment of at least 6 months at a time is usually required.
