ICFRC Lecture Luncheon – Thursday, Oct. 17, 12:00-1:15pm

Peter Gries, Professor, Institute for US-China Issues, University of Oklahoma
"Hollywood in China: How American Culture Shapes Chinese Views of the USA"

If America is the world's largest exporter of culture, China is certainly the world's largest importer. Peter Gries will discuss the role of popular culture in improving attitudes toward America in China and increasing the desire for friendlier US policy.

Peter Gries is a professor at the Institute for US-China Issues at the University of Oklahoma. He is the author of China's New Nationalism: Pride, Politics, and Diplomacy, co-editor of Chinese Politics: State, Society and the Market and State and Society in 21st-Century China: Crisis, Contention, and Legitimation, and has written dozens of academic journal articles and book chapters. His work focuses on nationalism, the political psychology of international affairs, and China's domestic politics and foreign policy.

Peter received a BA in East Asian Studies from Middlebury College, an MA in Chinese Studies from the University of Michigan, and a Ph.D. in Political Science from the University of California, Berkeley. He was a postdoctoral fellow at the Mershon Center for Security Studies at Ohio State University. He directs a research lab on the political psychology of US-China relations.

Register here, or contact the ICFRC office at (319) 335-0351 or ICFRC@uiowa.edu.

Lectures are 12:00-1:15 pm @ Congregational Church, 30 North Clinton Street. Luncheons are $9.00 for ICFRC members, $12.00 for non-members. We encourage you to bring guests who would enjoy this topic. Honors students, please register through the UI Honors or the UI Honors facebook site: www.facebook.com/HonorsatIowa.

NIGHT TO FEED THE NATIONS DINNER

In honor of the national Eradication of Poverty Day on October 17 and World Food Day on October 20, the Iowa United Nations Association, a 501(c)3 working in Iowa since 1953, is hosting their first “Night to Feed the Nations” dinner on October 17 from 6 to 7:30pm in the Old Brick Church, at 20 East Market St. All proceeds benefit UNICEF and The World Food Programme mission in Syria.

Attendees will be able to enjoy finger food from around the world while listening to international music and learning about global hunger issues. During the last half hour a speaker will give a presentation about world hunger. Tickets for the dinner will be $5 in advance or $7 at the door. Tickets can be purchased online at http://iowauna.org/night-to-feed-the-nations-buy-your-ticket-today/. All funds generated from this dinner will go directly to the World Food Program, the largest humanitarian agency fighting hunger, feeding 90 million people in more than 80 countries, annually.

The Indian Novel as an Agent of History

OCT 22

Tuesday, Oct. 22

5:00-6:30 PM

302 Schaeffer Hall

Chai and snacks will be served.

Presented by: Chandrahas Chowdhury

Chandrahas Choudhury is an Indian novelist based in New Delhi. His first novel, Arzee the Dwarf (2009), was chosen by World Literature Today as one of "60 Essential Works of Modern Indian Literature in English."

What happened when the Indian novel met Indian history? From the mid-19th century onwards, the novel opened out a new way for writers and readers to contemplate the history of the civilization and social order to which they belonged. Gradually, Indian novelists began to perceive that with all the imaginative and analytical narrative resources at their disposal, they could write complex stories that, inflected by a private and sometimes visionary scheme of values, sought to be slightly in advance of history, not just in step with it. The Indian novel became, like Indian democracy, a new site of freedom and idealism within Indian history. As democracy sought to create a new social contract, so the Indian novel sought to both find and form a new kind of reader/citizen.

Paid Tutors Needed for Dutch, Danish, Croatian or Serbian, and Hungarian

Native speakers of less commonly taught languages are sought as paid tutors for an innovative language program available to the UI students, faculty and staff. This program, entitled Autonomous Language Learning Network (ALLNet), matches paid tutors in various languages not currently taught at the University of Iowa with the UI students, faculty and staff wishing to learn those languages for study or research abroad.

The ALLNet invites speakers of world languages (except Chinese and Spanish) to join the program and tutor a learner in his/her native language. Each tutor meets with a student twice a week to give the learner an important opportunity to practice speaking the target language with a native speaker before going abroad. No prior tutoring experience is required. Tutors will be trained by the ALLNet staff members and will be reimbursed for their services up to three hours a week.

For more information on how to become a tutor for the ALLNet or if you are the UI faculty, staff or student who wishes to study critical languages contact Elena Osinskaya, DWLLC Language Initiatives Manager, elena-osinsky@uiowa.edu.

More information about the ALLNet program: http://clas.uiowa.edu/dwllc/allnet

Want to Study Critical and Less Commonly Taught Languages? Become an ALLNet student!

The Division of World Languages, Literatures and Cultures (DWLLC) offers an opportunity to learn critical and less commonly taught languages through autonomous language learning. This is open to University of Iowa students interested in study and research abroad. Many international opportunities require communication skills in a language not currently taught at the University of Iowa. With the support of the Autonomous Language Learning Network (ALLNet) staff members, learners design their own study plans to learn basic language skills or improve upon existing skills in preparation for study and research abroad. Upon admission into the program, the learners will be provided with learning materials and tutorial sessions with a language/culture consultant (a trained native speaker).

Learn more about ALLNet at http://clas.uiowa.edu/dwllc/allnet/information-learners.

Students wishing to participate in the ALLNet should complete an on-line application form.

Deadline - October 15th, 2013

For more information on how to become a consultant for ALLNet or if you are a student who wishes to study critical or less commonly taught languages (LCTLLs), please contact Elena Osinskaya, DWLLC Language Initiatives Manager, elena-osinsky@uiowa.edu.

Wenonah Hauter, Foodopoly: The Battle Over the Future of Food and Farming in America
Sun Room, Iowa State University Memorial Union, Ames, IA
Speaker Wenonah Hauter is executive director of Food and Water Watch, and author of the book Foodopoly. This lecture is free and open to the public, as the main Food Day event of the Iowa State University Sustainable Agriculture Student Association, in collaboration with WFAN and other partners.

The 4th National Conference for Women in Sustainable Agriculture, coming up November 6 - 8 in Des Moines, is a great opportunity for women to connect and learn through 42 wide-ranging workshops, 9 fascinating field tours, and 3 inspiring keynote addresses.

Keynote speaker Pakou Hang will give her presentation during the closing luncheon, at 12:30 p.m. on Friday, November 8. Her talk is titled Our New American Food Communities.

Pakou is a seasoned community organizer with particular expertise in New American communities. Born in 1976 in the Ban Vinac Refugee Camp in Thailand, but now naturalized as an American citizen, Pakou is a member of the Hmong community in Minnesota. She served as deputy political director to Senator Paul Wellstone's 2002 re-election campaign, and managed the 2001 campaign of Mee Moua, elected to the Minnesota legislature as the first Hmong woman in history to win a state legislative seat.

Pakou is now executive director of the Hmong American Farmers Association, a non-profit organization she co-founded in 2011 to support and advocate for Hmong farmers and their families. Pakou has helped her family farm for more than 20 years, and still sells every weekend at the Downtown St. Paul Farmers Market. She graduated from Yale University in 1999, and from the University of Minnesota with a master's degree in political science in 2009.
PROFIT FROM PAIN?
The Good and Bad of the Disaster Response Industry

Thursday, November 7th, 2013, 5pm to 8:30pm
Friday, November 8th, 2013, noon to 5pm
Saturday, November 9th, 2013, 9am to 5pm

In 2011, 308 aid workers were killed, kidnapped or wounded while providing humanitarian assistance. Should philanthropic donations be used for private security services for aid workers? Should aid organizations pay bribes, protection money or other corrupt fees if these activities are the only means of providing aid to those needing it?

This workshop will bring together experts from within and outside the University to explore the intricacies, ethics and controversies surrounding the humanitarian aid industry. What role do corporations have in providing both donated and profitable aid services? When should humanitarian aid services be turned over to the local economy? Can provision of humanitarian aid do more harm than good to a community? Does the UN Security Council use humanitarian intervention as one of the mechanisms to legitimize armed intervention?

- UNIVERSITY OF OXFORD
- DR. EDWARD JENNER’S HOUSE AND MUSEUM
- UNIVERSITY OF SOUTHAMPTON

in collaboration with the University of Wisconsin, La Crosse
The overall purpose of this popular study tour to Great Britain (offered since 1989) is to foster more health-related linkages and partnerships between the United States and England and Wales. A major focus of this study tour is having the participants become engaged in an in-depth professional and cultural experience to include planned, individualized work-shadowing (practical experience) opportunities.

GOALS:

- To provide an overview of the health care system offered through the National Health Service (NHS) and other providers in Great Britain
- To compare and contrast the British health care system with the systems of health care delivery in the United States
- To provide an overview of health education and health promotion strategies for health enhancement (individual and population-based) in Great Britain
- To compare and contrast the British health education and health promotion strategies with the strategies applied in the United States
- To connect participants with key cultural aspects of Great Britain that have health-related impacts
- To engage participants in individualized work-shadowing (practical experience) opportunities that align with their interests and professional needs
- To provide an historic, social and cultural context for health and health promotion in Great Britain

PROGRAM COSTS:

The program fee for UI participants is $4,091. This includes all educational and administrative expenses, air travel (Cedar Rapids–London–Cedar Rapids), tour-related travel within Great Britain, lodging (double–occupancy), selected meals, and entrance fees in Great Britain. An early registration discount of $100 will be applied for applications postmarked by September 27, 2013.

CREDIT:

International Perspectives: Xicotepec, Mexico – Spring Break Service Learning Course (3 s.h.)

Program Summary
This is a three credit-hour, interdisciplinary, service-learning course co-sponsored by the University of Iowa and District 6000 of Rotary International. The course meets weekly with travel to Mexico over spring break. Readings and classroom sessions will focus on service-learning, teamwork, intercultural competence, Mexican culture and history, project planning and development and analyzing, reporting and presenting as a team. In collaboration with Rotarians and local community members, students will work in teams to develop and execute discipline-specific projects that address community-identified needs in Xicotepec de Juárez, Puebla, Mexico.

Xicotepec, Mexico
Xicotepec is a city of 90,000 located 116 miles (186 km) NE of Mexico City. The area is mountainous (3,600 ft/1100 m) with abundant vegetation. The main products are coffee, flowers and plants, stainless steel and clay for porcelain fixtures.

Cost
The program fee for the Spring 2014 class will likely be $1,900 for residents and non-residents. This program fee includes travel from and to Iowa City, lodging, and meals (except two meals in Mexico City). The program fee does not include tuition; personal items such as souvenirs, bottled water and toiletries; museum admission fees; tips; and two meals while in Mexico City.

Interested?
Students interested in the course should contact Jean Florman, jean-florman@uiowa.edu, in October to make an interview appointment. Passports are required, so plan ahead if you need to apply for one.

Apply for a Boren Scholarship or Fellowship

Boren Awards, an initiative of the National Security Education Program, provide unique funding opportunities for U.S. undergraduate and graduate students to study in Africa, Asia, Central & Eastern Europe, Eurasia, Latin America, and the Middle East, where they can add important international and language components to their educations.

Boren Scholarships provide American undergraduate students with the resources and encouragement they need to acquire language skills and experiences in areas of the world critical to the future security of our nation, in exchange for their commitment to seek work in the federal government and a one-year service requirement following the grant period.

Apply to be a Carnegie Endowment Junior Fellow

The Carnegie Endowment Junior Fellows Program provides an opportunity for 10-12 students who desire careers in international affairs to have a substantive one-year working experience in Washington, D.C. Junior Fellows provide research assistance to scholars working on Carnegie Endowment programs. Due to the limited number of students we can accept, we require that all applicants be nominated by their university and that universities nominate no more than two. Applicants must be graduating seniors or students who have completed their bachelor's degree within the past academic year. No one will be considered who has started graduate studies (except those who have recently completed a joint masters/bachelors program).

- Application Open: October 15, 2013
- UIHP Campus Nomination Deadline: Friday, November 15, 2013
- Opportunity Deadline: Monday, January 15, 2014

Interested students are encouraged to contact Kelly Thornburg, UIHP Fellowships Director, at 319-335-1874 as early in the fall as possible to schedule a Scholar Development Conference. Appointments will not be scheduled via email.

THE ROBERT D. DOCKENDORFF SCHOLARSHIP

The Robert D. Dockendorff Scholarship is to be used to support one or more annual scholarships for University of Iowa students with preference given to undergraduate students who are active in the Gay, Lesbian, Bisexual, Transgender community, who contribute to the diversity of the University campus, and who demonstrate financial need. One or more awards ranging from $1000 to $4000 will be granted for the 2013-2014 academic year.

BIOGRAPHY

Robert D. Dockendorff graduated from The University of Iowa in 1960 with a B.A. in Sociology. He is a native of Danville, Iowa, and his family still owns a farm there. Mr. Dockendorff has lived in San Francisco for many years and worked for the Pacific Maritime Association there for 35 years prior to his retirement. Mr. Dockendorff's interest in student aid stems from his belief that education is the key to solving the country's problems. Through the years, he has been very involved with the San Francisco schools and also served many years on the Ethics Committee for the city of San Francisco.

ELIGIBILITY

1. Students who are active participants in the Gay, Lesbian, Bisexual, Transgender community.
2. Students who contribute to the diversity of The University of Iowa campus.
3. Students who demonstrate financial need.
4. Students must be in good academic standing (have a minimum 2.0 cumulative GPA on a 4.0 scale).
5. Both undergraduate and graduate students may apply; however, preference will be given to undergraduates.

TO APPLY

1. Complete and sign the application form available online at http://www.uiowa.edu/~lgbsfa. This form is also your release of information authorizing the Office of Student Financial Aid to give the committee the required financial need information.
2. Write an essay no longer than 1,000 words, typed, double-spaced on an 8.5 x 11 sheet of paper or electronically, telling us about your participation in the LGBT community; your contribution to the diversity of The University of Iowa campus; and your educational and career goals.
3. Attach your most recent financial aid award notification, printable from ISIS.
4. Attach a copy of your grade report, printable from ISIS.

SELECTION

Recipients shall be determined by a selection committee made up of members of the Lesbian, Gay, Bisexual, and Transgender Staff and Faculty Association in coordination with the Office of Student Financial Aid. Applicants that are selected will be notified via mail by November 30, 2013.

DEADLINE

All materials (application form, grade report, financial aid award notification and essay) must be submitted electronically to or postmarked for submission to the address below no later than November 1, 2013.
