ICFRC Lecture Luncheon – Tuesday, Sept. 17, 12:00-1:15pm

Chuck Peters, President, CEO of The Gazette Company - Transforming a Local Business with Global Connections

In an ever-globalizing world, maintaining a small, local business is increasingly difficult. Companies need to expand and use their global connections while remaining grounded within their communities. Chuck Peters, CEO and President of the Gazette Company, will discuss the variety of international initiatives the Gazette Company currently has underway.

Chuck is the President and Chief Executive Officer of The Gazette Company, a company owned by a trust for the benefit of the employees (ESOP), and doing business as Iowa SourceMedia Group, consisting of The Gazette newspaper, KCRG - TV9, an ABC affiliate, Hoopla, and numerous online sites; Fusionfarm, a digital services agency and ColorWeb Printers. He is on the board of directors of the Newspaper Association of America.

A lawyer by training, Chuck graduated from the University of Iowa College of Law. He spent a decade in the appliance business, five years as President of Amana Refrigeration and until 1998 as Vice President - Administration of Maytag. Between appliance assignments, he was the CEO of Breakthrough, an Iowa City start-up software and consulting company engaged in developing effective early literacy programs for school systems.

Joan Soriano Concert at CSPS

Tue Sept 17 2013 - 7:00 pm

CSPS Hall, 1103 Third St. SE, Cedar Rapids,

www.legionarts.org

$17 advance - $21 door (student rush $5 at the door)

Born in the rural countryside of the Dominican Republic, Joan (pronounced 'Yo-an') Soriano fashioned his first guitar from a tin can and fishing line, and he's never looked back. Soriano plays steel-string bachata featuring an Afro-infused rhythm that has made him a favorite among dancers.

Bachata is essential to Dominican culture and draws upon influences from Africa, Europe, Latin America and the Caribbean. Joan blends Afro-Dominican sacred traditions with bachata, imparting his music with down-to-earth spirit and dance-ability. Preserving bachata's roots while expanding on them, he is a rare combination of new and authentic. A full band includes his brother Fernando and sister Griselda.

The seventh of 15 children, Joan left school to help his father farm the family's land, but music called. He formed a band with his young brothers and sisters and began to perform at neighborhood events. At 13, he hitched a ride to Santo Domingo and nurtured his talent with some of the island's greatest bachata stars.

Soriano was featured in Alex Wolfe's critically acclaimed musical documentary, Santo Domingo Blues, and is the main subject and star of Adam Taub's documentary, The Duke of Bachata, which paints an intimate portrait of Joan as he strives to make a success of his career and improve the lives of his extended family in the Dominican Republic.

भैरव से भैरवी

Script: Dr. Sameer Kulkarni, Music Arrangement: Ashish Mujumdar

Direction & Narration: Milind Oak

Vocalists: Dattaprasad Ranade, Saily Panse - Shellikeri & Pandit Vijay Koparkar

Tabla: Vinayak (Prasad) Joshi, Violin: Rajendra Bhawe

TUESDAY, SEPTEMBER 17, 2013 • 7-10 PM
UNIVERSITY CAPITOL CENTRE RECITAL HALL

Lower Level of Old Capitol Mall at Clinton/Washington Streets, Iowa City
Seating begins at 6:30 p.m.

This concert presents North Indian Classical music "for the masses" through a scripted English narration that creates education and entertainment. "Sangeet" (music) transcends beyond the mundane levels of existence. To joy... happiness... bliss... an almost divine meditative state. Can this experience be deciphered? "Bhairav se Bhairavi" is an exposition of classical Indian musical tradition, based on the eternal cyclical clock of day and night. It commences with raga Bhairav, a morning raga, and concludes with Bhairavi, typically sung at the dawn.

Come and enjoy this thrilling ride!

This event and several related lecture/demonstrations on the UI campus are sponsored by the University of Iowa (UI) School of Music, the UI International Programs (IP), the UI John Pappajohn Entrepreneurial Center, the UI College of Liberal Arts and Sciences, the UI South Asian Studies Program (SASP), the UI Office of Admissions, CARTHA, the Friends of India Cedar Rapids (FOICR), and the India Association of Iowa City Area (IAICA).

Open Mic Night for UN Rights of Persons with Disabilities

The Iowa United Nations Association, a 501(c)3 working in Iowa since 1953, is partnering with Uptown Bill's Coffee Shop to host an open mic night in support of the United Nations' Convention on the Rights of Persons with Disabilities (UNCRPD). The program is at Uptown Bill's Coffee Shop, 730 S. Dubuque St., on Wednesday, September 18 at 7:00 pm.

Art and self-expression of community members will portray the significance of UNCRPD. Featured speakers and performances by poet Sara Akant and Combined Efforts Theatre are among the acts for the evening. Any community members wishing to perform can sign up at Uptown Bill's the week before the event.

The program will focus on the rights of persons with disabilities in the Iowa City area and the broader national and international effects of US ratification of the CRPD. Audience members will have the opportunity to sign a petition for both Iowa senators showing support for ratification of the treaty, which will likely come to a vote this fall during the 113th Congress. The measure failed to gain a super majority last year drawing widespread disappointment among Republican and Democratic supporters of the treaty. Ratification will allow the US to join the 124 countries that have already ratified the treaty and become a world leader in influencing other nation states to ratify the rights of persons with disabilities.

If you are interested in performing, sign up at Uptown Bill's the week prior to the event, or email michelle@una-iowa.org. Pieces related to the topic are preferred but not required.

The Iowa City Human Rights Commission is co-sponsoring this event.

Trans 101: Diversity and Respect - Lecture and Performance

Rebecca Kling, a transgender artist and educator from Chicago, will lead a workshop entitled "Trans 101: Diversity and Respect" Tuesday, Sept. 17, from 6 to 7 p.m. in the Iowa City Public Library Meeting Room A. She will then give a solo performance about some of her significant life experiences the following evening. Both events are free and open to the public.

The workshop is intended to give attendees a basic primer on transgender issues and experiences.

She explores gender and identity through solo pieces and educational workshops. Kling takes the position that sharing accessible queer narratives with a wide audience is a form of activism, and that understanding combats bigotry.

Kling will also perform "No Gender Left Behind," from 7 to 8 p.m. Wednesday, Sept. 18, in the UI Lesbian, Gay, Bisexual, Transgender \(LGBT\) Resource Center. The center is located at 125 Grand Ave. Court in Iowa City.

This solo performance is the story of how, in the fall of 2010, Kling was fired from a teaching position for being a transgender woman. The experience left her wondering what America was teaching its children—and adults—about gender, conformity, and being just a little different.

Islamophobia: The Challenges of Being Muslim in America

In observation of the Sept. 11, 2001 anniversary, the University of Iowa Intellectual Dialogue Society, a student organization, will host a reading and a talk centering on the experience of being Arab and Muslim in the United States.

Moustafa Bayoumi will read from his recent book, How Does It Feel to Be Problem? Being Young and Arab in America, at 4 p.m. Thursday, Sept. 19 in Prairie Lights Books in downtown Iowa City. Immediately following the reading, at 5:15 p.m. Thursday, Bayoumi will give a talk titled “Islamophobia: The Challenges of Being a Muslim in America”, in 107 EPB. Both events are free and open to the public.

Bayoumi's book won an American Book Award and the Arab American Book Award for Nonfiction. A professor of English at Brooklyn College, City University of New York, he is co-editor of The Edward Said Reader.

In 2011, 308 aid workers were killed, kidnapped or wounded while providing humanitarian assistance. Should philanthropic donations be used for private security services for aid workers? Should aid organizations pay bribes, protection money or other corrupt fees if these activities are the only means of providing aid to those needing it?

This workshop will bring together experts from within and outside the University to explore the intricacies, ethics and controversies surrounding the humanitarian aid industry. What role do corporations have in providing both donated and profitable aid services? When should humanitarian aid services be turned over to the local economy? Can provision of humanitarian aid do more harm than good to a community? Does the UN Security Council use humanitarian intervention as one of the mechanisms to legitimize armed intervention? These are some of the questions that will be examined in this interactive and provocative workshop.

Evaluation and grades will be based on attendance, participation, and on a short essay due ten days after the end of the workshop.

If this course is full and you would like to be added to a waitlist, please send an email with your name and student ID number to allison-rockwell@uiowa.edu with the subject line "Waitlist Request - 152:125:SCA - Fall 2013."

BASIC INFORMATION

The overall purpose of this popular study tour to Great Britain (offered since 1989) is to foster more health-related linkages and partnerships between the United States and England and Wales. A major focus of this study tour is having the participants become engaged in an in-depth professional and cultural experience to include planned, individualized work-shadowing (practical experience) opportunities.

GOALS:

- To provide an overview of the health care system offered through the National Health Service (NHS) and other providers in Great Britain
- To compare and contrast the British health care system with the systems of health care delivery in the United States
- To provide an overview of health education and health promotion strategies for health enhancement (individual and population-based) in Great Britain
- To compare and contrast the British health education and health promotion strategies with the strategies applied in the United States
- To connect participants with key cultural aspects of Great Britain that have health-related impacts
- To engage participants in individualized work-shadowing (practical experience) opportunities that align with their interests and professional needs
- To provide an historic, social and cultural context for health and health promotion in Great Britain

PROGRAM COSTS:

The program fee for UI participants is $4,091. This includes all educational and administrative expenses, air travel (Cedar Rapids–London–Cedar Rapids), tour-related travel within Great Britain, lodging (double–occupancy), selected meals, and entrance fees in Great Britain. An early registration discount of $100 will be applied for applications postmarked by September 27, 2013.

Join Community Health Initiative-Iowa

Welcome to Community Health Initiative-Iowa – a fully student-run branch of CHI based in the University of Iowa!

If you have an interest in...

- Global Health
- International Travel
- Addressing Worldwide Health Disparities

...CHI is for you!

Community Health Initiative-Iowa works to support CHI in its mission to bring medical care to underserved populations in Haiti. We are pleased to announce official student organization status and are excited to get started for the 2013-2014 academic year!

Our first meeting is Monday, September 23rd, 2013 at 5 pm and will be held in room S106AB of the Public Health Building. At this meeting we will be talking about new goals for the upcoming year (guest speakers and fundraising events) and ways to get involved. Dr. Chris Buresh, one of the founders of CHI, will speak about CHI and his experiences in Haiti before and after the earthquake of 2010. Undergraduate students, graduate students, and community members are ALL welcome!

Call for Submissions – Journal of Undergrad International Studies

The Journal of Undergraduate International Studies at the University of Wisconsin-Madison is currently accepting submissions for its Fall 2013 issue. The journal seeks to publish the world's premier undergraduate work related to international themes and topics including, but not limited to: international conflict and conflict resolution, human rights, environmental issues, history, comparative politics, economics, development and trade, global security, and international health. To view previous issues, please visit: <http://juis.global.wisc.edu/issues.html>

Our submissions generally range in length from 5 to 20 pages, but may be longer. Submissions must not have been published in any other publication. Current undergraduates and recent graduates (one semester out or less) are eligible to submit their work. To submit your work, email it as an attachment to juis@global.wisc.edu, following these guidelines:

1. Use an easily read font, such as Times New Roman
2. Double-space your document
3. Follow the Chicago Manual of Style for all citations (for help, <http://www.chicagomanualofstyle.org/home.html>) This is not a requirement unless the piece is selected for publication
4. Convert all your citations and footnotes to endnotes
- 5. Make sure your name is not present in the text of your work
6. Include an abstract of 100 words or less

Submissions must be received by October 6, 2013 at 11:59 pm CST. We look forward to reading your work!

We also welcome photos, both related to or independent of the content of submitted essays. These photos could appear in the published issues themselves or on our website, www.juis.global.wisc.edu. Photos can be sent as low resolution jpegs to juis@global.wisc.edu Please indicate the subject, the location, and the date of the photo, as well as your name and university affiliation.
