Maharishi University of Management
an accredited, non-profit university in Fairfield, Iowa, is seeking a

Licensed Counseling Provider

Job Description

Overview
Maharishi University of Management is looking for a Mental Health and Substance Abuse Social Worker to provide general counseling and referral services to our student body. In addition, help create awareness campaigns and educational opportunities for students on campus, and work with the Student Life Department to support students in need.

This position in personal support services works to ensure the behavioral, emotional, and mental wellbeing of students. The personal support office maintains accurate information about our student body and their physical and mental health needs. This includes identifying how well our services are helping those students and organizing successful projects to improve our services.

This position can be either full-time or part-time. Salary and benefits commensurate with experience.
Duties
1. Meet with students during office hours by appointment to discuss their mental/emotional/behavioral wellbeing and needs.
2. Assess and refer students as needed.
3. Attend weekly check-in meetings with the Student Life team to discuss students in need.
4. Offer educational opportunities to the student body around the topics of mental/emotional/behavioral wellbeing.
5. Help train Student Life and Security staff members to identify red flags and take appropriate action steps in crisis situations.

Qualifications
- Graduate degree in psychology, counseling, social work or related field
- LISW, LMHC, or LMFT license
- 3-5 years of clinical experience, preferably with college students or young adults

To Apply
Contact Human Resources at 641-472-1194 or humanresources@mum.edu

Maharishi University of Management offers
- Professional growth
- Opportunity for advancement
- Transcendental Meditation and natural health programs
- A campus culture with heart
- A mutually-supportive and friendly community where everyone is committed to personal growth
- Innovative sustainability
- Fairfield, a vibrant, entrepreneurial college town that offers many of the advantages of big city life without the noise, traffic, and congestion